One Hundred Persons Perish When Blast Sends Great Clouds of Fumes Through Building

work in safety. Police lines were thrown about the district to regulate traffic and hold in check a crowd of several thousand onlookers.

DOORS SMASHED

The motion after the explosion shattered glass doors reinforced with steel. Compression in the hollow center of the building packed air into the halls and staircases, and when this force was released by the blast the air rushed back into the center of the building, smashing the doors with the force of battering rams.

Heavy fumes hung about the building and for two hours after the blast rescuers were unable to remain inside for long intervals.

The explosion came at a few seconds past 11:30 a.m. A clock on the third-floor balcony stopped at that time.

The fumes were so strong as to eat almost instantly. Pedestrians caught outside the building toppled to the ground and lay unconscious until dragged to safety from the gas lifted. One woman smashed a third-floor window and was preparing to leap as flames spread a life line. She stood poised, the amber gas swirling about her shoulders, and she collapsed, falling inside the building.

Some reached unbroken windows, pounded weakly against the glass and then dropped from sight as the gas choked them. Most of the victims lay clutching their throats, stifled and fighting at the last for air.

OTHERS MAY DIE

Stephen Weiser, elevator operator, was in his car in the basement. He shot the car to the fifth floor penthouse and escaped with burns about the face and hands. Two workmen in a coal bin below the X-ray film storage room were jarred but not otherwise injured.

Some of those given oxygen immediately after their removal are expected to live. Hope is despaired of for others where the noxious poison destroyed the membranes of the lungs.

Inside the building firemen found many lying where the fumes overtook them. Rooms set aside for clinical examinations were occupied by patients and physicians. Some sat in chairs of the waiting room, overcome as the first cloud of gas swept up from the basement. Others in the front of the building were stretched along the stairs.

The rescuers found evidence of the suddenness with which disaster came to those inside the building on every hand. Hats, shoes and purses were scattered about, abandoned in the flight of those able to fight off the fumes long enough to make a frantic attempt to escape.

Surgical equipment lay ready for use in the examining rooms. In the X-ray developing room a roll of film was stretched to dry. A wheel chair with the blanket thrown aside blocked a balcony overlooking the waiting room. A stenographer's half-finished letter was found in an office.

Everything was abandoned as the victims realized too late that the brown fumes curling through door casings and along the walls carried death.

Most of them were able to make an attempt to save themselves. No had patients were kept in the clinic and many of those there had appeared for medical examinations and were able to attempt escape, but so sudden was the catastrophe that none had time to reach the open air and safety.

Emergency provisions were made at the hospital and as these became overwhelmed, a residence near the clinic was made into a temporary first-aid station. Cots were set in halls at Mt. Sinai Hospital, and as fast as the victims succumbed they were removed for the continuing line of ambulances. The known dead were taken immediately to the County Morgue, which was taxed as never before. Anxious relatives who arrived at the clinic to learn that members of their families had been removed gathered at the morgue and the hospitals to learn their fate.

IDENTIFICATION SLOW

Identification was slow, as rapidly as the names of the victims were learned they were posted at the morgue, and police established another bureau of information at central station.

The work of identification went on tonight. Police declared it may require several days to complete the roster of those who were killed. Discoloration hampered identification of some, although none of the bodies was disfigured otherwise.

The blast shot through the building with an intensity of heat which even the masonry could not resist. As the fumes leaped from the compression of the narrow quarters in the basement they seared the woodwork and charred stair rails. Hardened plaster was blistered and peeled from the walls. A steel door was blown in and the fumes, filling a hollow compartment between a balcony roof and the roof of the building ripped out the brick and mortar as if it had been paste-board.

Steel network of the plastering was peeled from the walls and hung from the ceilings as the skylight buckled and warped under the fumes of the explosion and the broken glass was rained on the floor of the waiting-room three floors below.

DOCTOR FINDS WIFE

Dr. Carl Helwig, on duty at another hospital, went to Mt. Sinai Hospital to aid in resuscitation and came upon his wife, who had gone to the clinic for examination. She died as he worked to save her.

Louis Sobel, whose appointment was cancelled, waited from the structure at instant before the double explosion. Sobel said he turned to see victims with their clothes torn away, fighting at the windows for air. Billows of gas swept about them and he fled to Huron Road Hospital to spread the alarm as the fumes filled the street.

The Cleveland Clinic was established by Dr. Crile a few years ago, and rapidly rose to a place of prominence in the city's medical centers. The surgeon, noted for his operations for cancer, associated himself with other physicians in the Cleveland Clinic Foundation, and in 1924 a hospital was built for the care of patients.

INQUIRY STARTS

Official inquiry into the cause of the blast was opened immediately after the bodies had been cleared away.

Coroner Pearce prepared plans for an inquest as fire department officials attempted to learn the origin of the fire.

Doctors said they are baffled by the poisonous quality of the gas that took so many lives. Although pharmacists call it bromine gas, doctors said they think it may have been a form of nitric gas.

Dr. John G. Phillips, one of the founders of the clinic, among the seriously stricken. Four tanks of oxygen have been used in efforts to save his life, but doctors said he probably will die.

City officials established a special bureau of information tonight at Mt. Sinai Hospital for the benefit of relatives of the dead and injured and arrangements were made to broadcast additional information of the disaster through station WTAM.

DR. CRILE LEADS RESCUE

Dr. Crile, the proprietor, was one of those inside when the blast occurred. He was among those who escaped safely. He said he did not know what caused the explosion.

Dr. Crile, leading the rescue work, directed all available firemen to go through the building searching for the missing. Among the missing, Dr. Crile said, is a prominent Cleveland physician. He did not reveal the physician's name.

One of the outstanding heroes in the rescue was Robert Chasney, a Cleveland negro. He was working at an automobile washing establishment near the clinic when he heard the explosion.

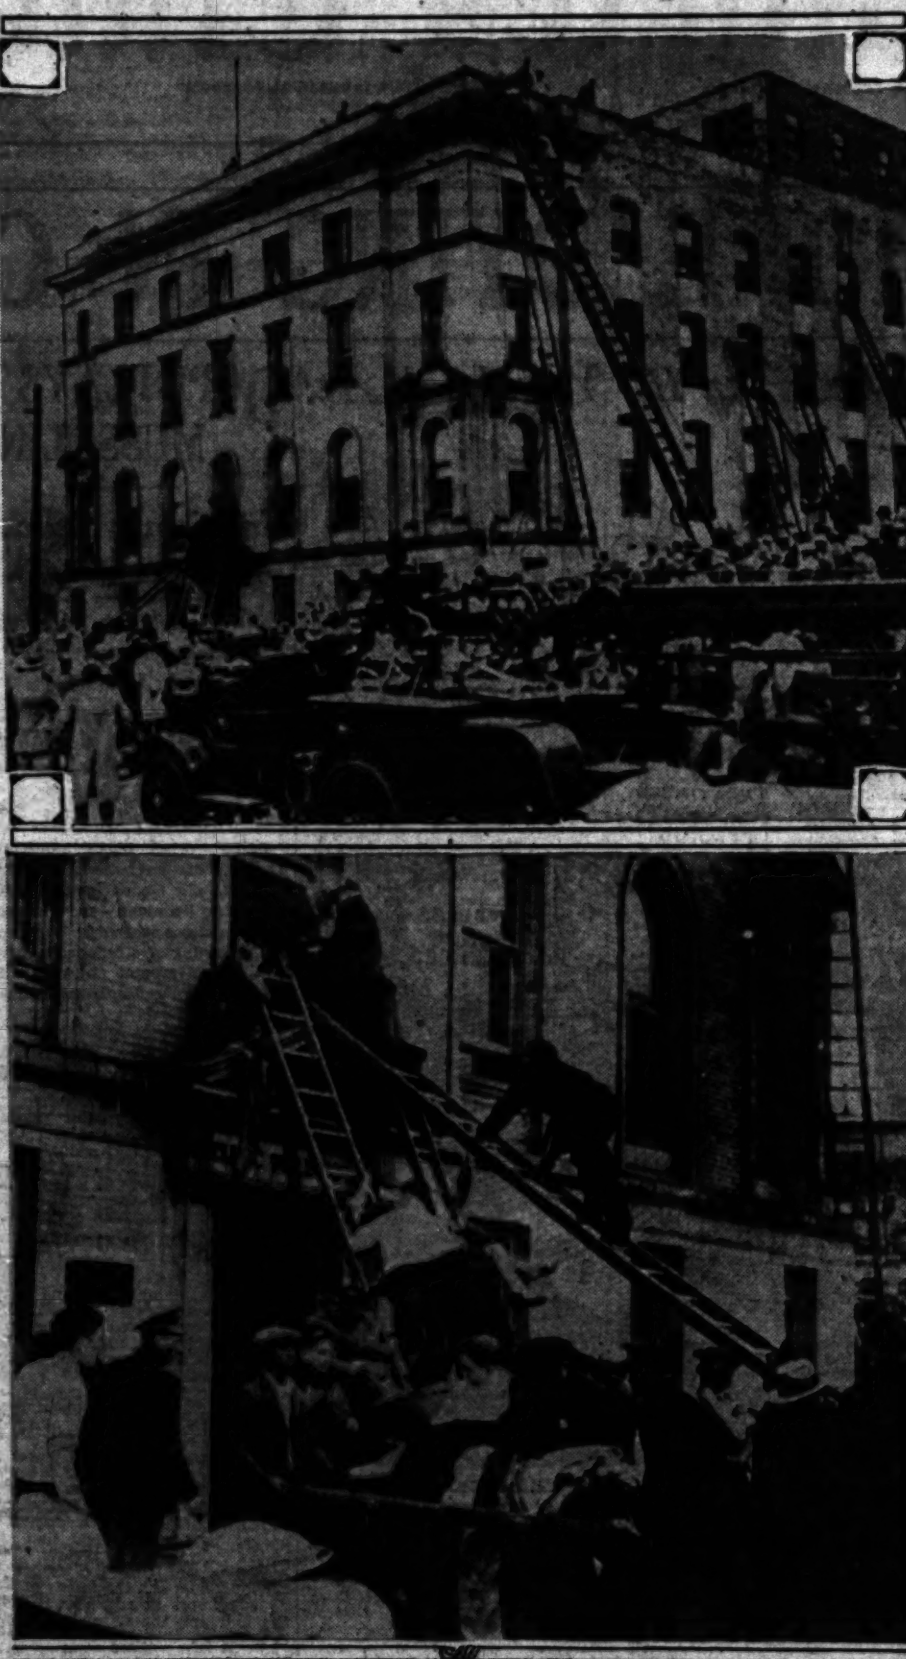

He investigated, seeing men and women screaming at the windows. He seized a ladder in an attempt to rescue but the ladder was too short. Undaunted, Chasney lifted it to his shoulders and ten persons climbed down.

He then rushed into the building and rescued ten more.

Another hero was Newton Payne, 29 years of age, Cleveland truck driver. With the aid of a ladder and his truck he carried to Mt. Sinai Hospital six truckloads of dead and injured.

Where Explosion and Fire Took Heavy Toll

Poison gas horrors of the World War were brought vividly to mind yesterday when nearly 100 succumbed to an undetermined gas which swept through the Cleveland Clinic (above) following an explosion in the X-ray film laboratory on an undetermined cause. Scores of lives were snuffed out in a few moments and the death list grew steadily throughout the night. Many prominent Cleveland physicians are among the dead and injured. The lower picture gives a telephoto view of the first rescue efforts, when two women patients were removed. The clinic, founded less than a decade ago by Dr. George W. Crile, noted physician, is located in the heart of the aristocratic section of Cleveland. The death list is expected to exceed 100 as further checks are made on the injured. It is feared also that other bodies may be found in the interior of the structure.

ing by the explosion and fire does not exceed $50,000, firemen said, despite the heavy loss of life.

PHILLIPS EXPIRES

Dr. John Phillips, friends and colleagues of Dr. Crile, head of the clinic, died tonight from the effects of gas inhaled during the blast and explosion despite a blood transfusion performed by Dr. Crile. Dr. Phillips was personal physician to the late Ambassador Myron T. Herrick and attended Mr. Herrick when he was stricken at his home near here last New Year's Day.

FORMER LOCAL DOCTOR VICTIM OF GAS

A former University of Southern California student, who later became a brain surgeon, was among the victims of the Cleveland hospital disaster. It was revealed last night by Dr. William Benbow Thompson of 427 South Commonwealth avenue, who, in a telegram from his sister, was advised of the death of Dr. Charles Edward Locke, Jr., his brother-in-law. Dr. Locke was suffering from gas poisoning, but that his condition was not serious. A subsequent message announced his injuries had proved fatal.

Dr. Locke, son of Bishop Locke of St. Paul, who for twelve years was pastor of the First Methodist Church of Los Angeles, came here from Portland in 1908 and entered University of Southern California preparatory school. He remained two years in the university, then transferred to Stanford, and on graduation entered the University of California medical school at Berkeley.

Taking his M.D. he then spent two years in postgraduate study in Europe, returning to Berkeley in 1922 to join the faculty as neurological professor. In 1928 he was called to Cleveland to join the staff of the Cleveland Clinic as brain surgeon. His marriage to Dr. Thompson's sister, Jane Mary Thompson, in Detroit, was the culmination of a campus romance, she also having attended both U.S.C. and Stanford. Mrs. Locke's mother resides in South Pasadena.

Dr. Jack Swafford, who escaped from the blast, told of what happened as he sat suffering from burns and other injuries on the running board of an automobile refusing to accept aid until all were taken from the blazing building.

"God, it was terrible," he shuddered. "I was working in there

GAS IN HOSPITAL PROVES PUZZLE

Pharmacists Say Bromine Caused Fatalities

Mixture of Several Blamed by Other Experts

Fumes Kill Quickly and Penetrate Far

CLEVELAND, May 15. (AP)—Investigations tonight of the explosion and fire at the Cleveland Clinic Hospital today which claimed nearly 100 lives established that many of the deaths were caused by a deadly gas, but its identity is undetermined.

Pharmacists said it was bromine gas, but doctors said it probably was a form of nitric gas.

It is probable, however, that it was a mixture of gases coming from many forms of chemicals in the building, which were liberated when containers were broken by explosion of celluloid X-ray films. In addition the burning films gave off a gas said to be bromine.

The fire started in the X-ray room in the basement of the building when from an undetermined cause the X-ray films exploded. Flames and gas were driven into all parts of the building.

Whatever the gas was, it was powerfully penetrating and most deadly. Many patients, by its seemingly less than a minute. Others in remote parts of the building died later and scores in hospitals tonight still were suffering from the fumes. Some of these will die before morning, doctors said.

Deputy State fire warden, said they could not determine whether the fire started from the spontaneous combustion or another cause. They were continuing their investigation tonight.

Whether the fire door of the X-ray room was left open or blown open by the explosion will be investigated by Fire Warden Patrick F. Ferrie, he announced.

The open door, Ferrie said, permitted the flames to shoot upward and the poisonous gases to escape through the building. He was unable to locate witnesses for his investigation tonight because of confusion and grief over the disaster.

DOCTOR BLAMES BROMIDE GAS IN DISASTER

CHICAGO, May 15. (Exclusive)—Burning X-ray films give off suffocating bromide gas, Dr. Maximilian Hubeney, president of the Radiological Society of North America, declared today commenting on the Cleveland clinic disaster. Dr. Hubeney gave an explanation of the chemistry of the film.

"Bromine is present in the films in the form of silver bromide," he said. "The combination is applied to the film in the form of an emulsion. In this combination bromine is extremely difficult to liberate. Silver bromide is sensitive to light and after exposure to it and in the process of developing the film the compound undergoes a chemical reaction."

"Doubtless, after this change the bromine can be more readily thrown off in the terrific heat of an explosion. Bromine is a reddish brown nonvolatile substance very unstable and easily becomes a sharp suffocating gas. In sufficient quantities, bromine gas is deadly. Whether there is a sufficient quantity of gas liberated in the destruction of a large quantity of film is a problem for chemists."

WHAT John Smallman Says of the HARDMAN

Gentlemen:

May I express to you how completely happy I am in the possession of my two new Hardman pianos, and the honor I feel in becoming a Hardman artist?

I have read with much curiosity all that has been printed about the qualities of this great instrument, and must now admit that the picture has not been overdrawn.

The Hardman seems to have an inexhaustible supply of power, and the possibilities for tonal colors surpass those of any piano I have ever heard.

My heartiest congratulations then, to the Fitzgerald Music Company for having brought the Hardman to such a prominent place in the music life of Los Angeles.

Cordially yours,

REDISTRICTING FOES ON GUARD

Reapportionment-Census Bill
Up in Senate

Deley Tactics May Become Regular Filibuster

Proponents, However, See
Passage This Session

WASHINGTON, May 15. (Reuter)—The Senate today made the bill providing for reapportionment and the taking of the 1930 census the immediate order of business, and proceeded to debate it. Time-killing tactics which may develop into a full-fledged filibuster were at once noted, but administration leaders expressed confidence the measure will be passed by the Senate long before the end of the special session. Its approval by the House, which already has passed both reapportionment and census legislation separately, is assured.

Reapportionment, now eight years overdue because of the refusal of the Senate to act, will give California five or six additional members of the lower branch of Congress, and on the basis of comparative population most of the new seats will go to Los Angeles county and Southern California.

HARRISON ON GUARD
The opening of Senate debate found Senator "Pat" Harrison of Alabama, who led the Democratic filibuster against reapportionment in the closing days of the last Congress, contending that the measure should originate in the House. He declared the Senate would be doing "an unprecedented thing" by acting first on a measure affecting solely the membership of the lower branch.

This led Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, who with Senator Johnson of California is in charge of the bill, to remind the Senate that reapportionment has been almost constantly before the last several Congresses, and that it had been presented to the Senate only to be strangled to death.

Harrison said that if reapportionment were delayed until the census, the authority for the latter would be granted "in five minutes." This was no new to administration leaders, who would the two for the very purpose of obtaining reapportionment, finally, along with the bill for the taking of the next census, which few Senators care to oppose because of the vast patronage involved.

HOW PREPARED FOR
The bulk of the bill's defense for today on Vandenberg, who debated in turn with Messrs. Block of Alabama, Swanson of Virginia, Barkley of Kentucky and Wagner of New York, all Democrats from States that would lose seats if a reapportionment bill were enacted. It was a resumption of the same old fight that has resulted in denial of rightful representation to growing States, like California, ever since the 1820 census.

The "fact" of the forces opposed to reapportionment appeared in an amendment which Senators Sackett, Republican of Kentucky, and Tyson, Democrat of Tennessee, are prepared to push, providing for the exclusion of aliens in the census enumeration.

As a counter-proposition, Senator Vandenberg is holding up his sleeve an amendment excluding negroes of the Southern States. The Michigan Senator promises a third amendment, if necessary, over the treatment of negroes in the South under the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments, and to insist that, if they are not worthy of voting, they should not be counted in the tallying of population figures.

Another amendment which is said to be offered would place the 100,000 or more census employees under civil service. Despite the fact that this would require the approval of the House and Representatives of patronage, it is said to have a good chance at adoption.

Senate leaders expect debate to run along for at least a week before a vote is reached.

Return to Moose
Favored in Texas

AUSTIN (Tex.), May 15. (AP)—The House Committee on Criminal Jurisdiction in the State Legislature today reported favorably a bill re-establishing public hangings as a punishment for capital offenses.

The measure, if enacted into a law, would abolish the electric chair at the penitentiary and require 100 pounds of lead to be put on the neck of the condemned. A fee of $35 would be paid for springing the trap.

LOCAL MAN RECALLS CLINIC

Former Cleveland Resident Describes Hospital; Southland Doctors Have Visited It

Jesse D. Spiro of the Kipling Hotel, West Third street and Kingsley Drive, this city, and a former Cleveland newspaper and advertising man, lived for ten years within a half block of the scene of the hospital explosion in Cleveland yesterday, and knew many of the doctors and attendants connected with the clinic.

"The institution was started," said Mr. Spiro yesterday, "by Dr. George Crile, Dr. Lower and Dr. Buntz, eminent surgeons, and Dr. John A. Phillips, a well-known internist, all of whom had previously been connected with Lakeside Hospital in Cleveland. Dr. Crile, of course, is internationally famous both for his surgery and his pioneering work in the field of medical research. He is well known personally to a number of Southern California physicians and surgeons."

BUILT IN 1911
"It was the aim of the founders to establish a complete and fully equipped an organization for both research and the practice of medicine as they could. The original unit of the institution, erected about 1911, stood at the corner of Euclid avenue and East Ninety-third street at the western limits of what is the hospital unit, in which, it would appear from news reports so far received, the explosion occurred, was not built until about 1925. It was situated just around the corner on East Ninetieth street and connected with the original building. It was similar in general appearance and type of architecture to the main building. When I was in Cleveland in 1928, Dr. Justin Waugh of the clinic, in charge of nose and throat work, told me the hospital already had become too small for the needs of the institution and plans then were being made to enlarge it.

The clinic was familiar to a number of sections of the medical men who visited it to study its methods of operation and the work of the eminent physicians and surgeons.

"The disaster was the greatest that Cleveland has experienced since 1905, when a public school burned in an eastern section of the city known as Collinwood, with a loss of more than 170 lives. I happened to be among the newspaper men who covered that story for a Cleveland paper. The victims of the Collinwood disaster were principally children. They were trapped in an exit as the result of panic and the flames swept down upon them."

DAVIS MAY RULE

Former Secretary of War

St. Louis Man Takes Offer
Under Advisement

Place Considered Stepping
Stone to Higher Honor

WASHINGTON, May 15. (AP)—Dwight P. Davis, former Secretary of War, has been offered the post of Governor of the Philippines and now has it under consideration. It was announced today that the White House selection of the Governor-General of the Philippines is a been left by President Hoover largely to Secretary Good, under whose department the Governor-General is Secretary of War.

Nearly a dozen candidates were considered, among them Brig.-Gen. Frank McCoy, now head of the Bolivia-Paraguay commission, and Maj.-Gen. Douglas MacArthur, now in the Philippine department of the Army.

Only a few days ago it was decided that it would be inadvisable to appoint a military man to the position and it was then that the field narrowed down to Mr. Davis and one or two other civilians.

The Governor-Generalship of the Philippines is regarded by Mr. Hoover as one of the most important in the Federal service. In the past it has been the stepping stone to wider political horizons for several noted Americans.

Mr. Davis, 55 years of age, is a native of St. Louis and a graduate of Harvard University. He has a long record of public service. He is a veteran of the World War. Entering the service as a captain of the Fifth Infantry he rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel. He was appointed by the late President Harding as a director of the War Finance Corporation and was made Assistant Secretary of War in 1922. After two years of service in that position President Coolidge appointed him Secretary of War to succeed the late John W. Weeks.

House Recess
Prospect Cited
by Longworth

WASHINGTON, May 15. (AP)—Speaker Longworth said today that the House may recess for six weeks or two months after it has finished with the tariff and farm-relief bills.

The Speaker explained that he understands the Senate may recess for three weeks or a month while its Finance Committee is working on the tariff bill.

Under the plan as outlined by the Speaker, the House will come to a recess by the Senate and will ask for double that time for itself.

RATE SLASH FOUGHT

Western Railroads Attempt to Bar
Grain Reduction

WASHINGTON, May 15. (AP)—A joint application was filed today with the Interstate Commerce Commission by a number of western railroads seeking suspension of the proposed reduction in the rates on wheat and wheat products by the Kansas City Southern Railroad from Kansas City to Gulf ports.

Recently the Kansas City Southern Railroad announced a proposed reduction in rates of 7 cents per hundred pounds on wheat and wheat products and a like reduction on coarse grain and its products.

BAPTISTS BACK

Bible Union Convention Acts in Des Moines Trouble

University Board Head and Secretary Exonerated

Lack of Protection by Police in Disorders Assailed

BUFFALO, May 15. (AP)—The Baptist Bible Union in convention here unanimously adopted resolutions today exonerating Dr. Thomas T. Shields, chairman of the board of trustees of Des Moines University, and Miss Edith Heiman, secretary of the board, of rumors touching the personal integrity of both.

The trustees action in dismissing Dr. Shields and Miss Heiman and the entire faculty of the school found no opposition. Dean Carl Callaway of the school of pharmacy at the college and Minor Stevens, dissenting trustee, as envoys of Dr. Wayman, are expected to appear tomorrow before the gathering to give the faculty's point of view, but neither Dr. Shields nor the trustees would state definitely whether any attempt will be made to bar them from the floor.

POLICE CRITICIZED
Letters to the Governor of Iowa and the Mayor of Des Moines, prepared by a committee of three appointed by the trustees today, charging lack of protection by police of students from other nations at the school and asking assurance of such protection if the union is to continue to conduct a school in Des Moines, were read by Dr. French E. Oliver of Los Angeles. It was decided to send the letters by air mail to the executives, with a request for telegraphed answers by Friday, the last night of the convention.

During the afternoon several of the trustees spoke in glowing terms of Dr. Shields and Miss Heiman, their remarks bringing applause from the delegates.

LETTERS TO EXECUTIVE
The letters prepared by Dr. Shields, Dr. F. W. Hoyt of Cleveland and E. A. Broome of Toronto, called the Iowa executive's attention to the disturbances at the university, charging "indignities heaped on the trustees," especially aimed at Dr. Shields, a Canadian, and that four Canadian students were obliged to leave Des Moines for Canada three weeks before the close of the semester as they "could be assured of no protection in the city by police."

It is declared the court's injunction protecting interests of American citizens offers no protection to students of other nationalities in the school protected by the laws of Iowa.

"We ask for information," the trustees wrote, "if the recent saying of the great President of the United States, Mr. Herbert Hoover, to the effect that life and property are less secure in the United States than in any civilized country, is to find so unhappy a confirmation in the State which gave him birth."

SACRAMENTO, May 15. (AP)—Employers who require their employees to turn over tips received from patrons must advise the fact in their establishments under provisions of Assemblyman Adams' bill that the Senate passed today and sent to the Governor.

The measure also provides that businesses employing labor with the understanding that part of its compensation shall come from the tips of the public must post a notice to that effect that the public may learn the policy under which the business is conducted.

declared the Senate would be doing "an unprecedented thing" by acting first on a measure affecting solely the membership of the lower branch.

This led Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, who with Senator Johnson of California is in charge of the bill, to remind the Senate that reapportionment has been almost constantly before the last several Congresses, and that it had been presented to the Senate only to be strangled to death.

Harrison said that if reapportionment were delayed until the census, the authority for the latter would be granted "in five minutes." This was no new to administration leaders, who would the two for the very purpose of obtaining reapportionment, finally, along with the bill for the taking of the next census, which few Senators care to oppose because of the vast patronage involved.

HOW PREPARED FOR
The bulk of the bill's defense for today on Vandenberg, who debated in turn with Messrs. Block of Alabama, Swanson of Virginia, Barkley of Kentucky and Wagner of New York, all Democrats from States that would lose seats if a reapportionment bill were enacted. It was a resumption of the same old fight that has resulted in denial of rightful representation to growing States, like California, ever since the 1820 census.

The "fact" of the forces opposed to reapportionment appeared in an amendment which Senators Sackett, Republican of Kentucky, and Tyson, Democrat of Tennessee, are prepared to push, providing for the exclusion of aliens in the census enumeration.

As a counter-proposition, Senator Vandenberg is holding up his sleeve an amendment excluding negroes of the Southern States. The Michigan Senator promises a third amendment, if necessary, over the treatment of negroes in the South under the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments, and to insist that, if they are not worthy of voting, they should not be counted in the tallying of population figures.

Another amendment which is said to be offered would place the 100,000 or more census employees under civil service. Despite the fact that this would require the approval of the House and Representatives of patronage, it is said to have a good chance at adoption.

Senate leaders expect debate to run along for at least a week before a vote is reached.

AUSTIN (Tex.), May 15. (AP)—The House Committee on Criminal Jurisdiction in the State Legislature today reported favorably a bill re-establishing public hangings as a punishment for capital offenses.

The measure, if enacted into a law, would abolish the electric chair at the penitentiary and require 100 pounds of lead to be put on the neck of the condemned. A fee of $35 would be paid for springing the trap.

LOCAL MAN RECALLS CLINIC

Former Cleveland Resident Describes Hospital; Southland Doctors Have Visited It

Jesse D. Spiro of the Kipling Hotel, West Third street and Kingsley Drive, this city, and a former Cleveland newspaper and advertising man, lived for ten years within a half block of the scene of the hospital explosion in Cleveland yesterday, and knew many of the doctors and attendants connected with the clinic.

"The institution was started," said Mr. Spiro yesterday, "by Dr. George Crile, Dr. Lower and Dr. Buntz, eminent surgeons, and Dr. John A. Phillips, a well-known internist, all of whom had previously been connected with Lakeside Hospital in Cleveland. Dr. Crile, of course, is internationally famous both for his surgery and his pioneering work in the field of medical research. He is well known personally to a number of Southern California physicians and surgeons."

BUILT IN 1911
"It was the aim of the founders to establish a complete and fully equipped an organization for both research and the practice of medicine as they could. The original unit of the institution, erected about 1911, stood at the corner of Euclid avenue and East Ninety-third street at the western limits of what is the hospital unit, in which, it would appear from news reports so far received, the explosion occurred, was not built until about 1925. It was situated just around the corner on East Ninetieth street and connected with the original building. It was similar in general appearance and type of architecture to the main building. When I was in Cleveland in 1928, Dr. Justin Waugh of the clinic, in charge of nose and throat work, told me the hospital already had become too small for the needs of the institution and plans then were being made to enlarge it.

The clinic was familiar to a number of sections of the medical men who visited it to study its methods of operation and the work of the eminent physicians and surgeons.

"The disaster was the greatest that Cleveland has experienced since 1905, when a public school burned in an eastern section of the city known as Collinwood, with a loss of more than 170 lives. I happened to be among the newspaper men who covered that story for a Cleveland paper. The victims of the Collinwood disaster were principally children. They were trapped in an exit as the result of panic and the flames swept down upon them."

WASHINGTON, May 15. (AP)—Dwight P. Davis, former Secretary of War, has been offered the post of Governor of the Philippines and now has it under consideration. It was announced today that the White House selection of the Governor-General of the Philippines is a been left by President Hoover largely to Secretary Good, under whose department the Governor-General is Secretary of War.

Nearly a dozen candidates were considered, among them Brig.-Gen. Frank McCoy, now head of the Bolivia-Paraguay commission, and Maj.-Gen. Douglas MacArthur, now in the Philippine department of the Army.

Only a few days ago it was decided that it would be inadvisable to appoint a military man to the position and it was then that the field narrowed down to Mr. Davis and one or two other civilians.

The Governor-Generalship of the Philippines is regarded by Mr. Hoover as one of the most important in the Federal service. In the past it has been the stepping stone to wider political horizons for several noted Americans.

Mr. Davis, 55 years of age, is a native of St. Louis and a graduate of Harvard University. He has a long record of public service. He is a veteran of the World War. Entering the service as a captain of the Fifth Infantry he rose to the rank of lieutenant colonel. He was appointed by the late President Harding as a director of the War Finance Corporation and was made Assistant Secretary of War in 1922. After two years of service in that position President Coolidge appointed him Secretary of War to succeed the late John W. Weeks.

WASHINGTON, May 15. (AP)—Speaker Longworth said today that the House may recess for six weeks or two months after it has finished with the tariff and farm-relief bills.

The Speaker explained that he understands the Senate may recess for three weeks or a month while its Finance Committee is working on the tariff bill.

Under the plan as outlined by the Speaker, the House will come to a recess by the Senate and will ask for double that time for itself.

WASHINGTON, May 15. (AP)—A joint application was filed today with the Interstate Commerce Commission by a number of western railroads seeking suspension of the proposed reduction in the rates on wheat and wheat products by the Kansas City Southern Railroad from Kansas City to Gulf ports.

Recently the Kansas City Southern Railroad announced a proposed reduction in rates of 7 cents per hundred pounds on wheat and wheat products and a like reduction on coarse grain and its products.

Lack of Protection by Police

BUFFALO, May 15. (AP)—The Baptist Bible Union in convention here unanimously adopted resolutions today exonerating Dr. Thomas T. Shields, chairman of the board of trustees of Des Moines University, and Miss Edith Heiman, secretary of the board, of rumors touching the personal integrity of both.

The trustees action in dismissing Dr. Shields and Miss Heiman and the entire faculty of the school found no opposition. Dean Carl Callaway of the school of pharmacy at the college and Minor Stevens, dissenting trustee, as envoys of Dr. Wayman, are expected to appear tomorrow before the gathering to give the faculty's point of view, but neither Dr. Shields nor the trustees would state definitely whether any attempt will be made to bar them from the floor.

POLICE CRITICIZED
Letters to the Governor of Iowa and the Mayor of Des Moines, prepared by a committee of three appointed by the trustees today, charging lack of protection by police of students from other nations at the school and asking assurance of such protection if the union is to continue to conduct a school in Des Moines, were read by Dr. French E. Oliver of Los Angeles. It was decided to send the letters by air mail to the executives, with a request for telegraphed answers by Friday, the last night of the convention.

During the afternoon several of the trustees spoke in glowing terms of Dr. Shields and Miss Heiman, their remarks bringing applause from the delegates.

LETTERS TO EXECUTIVE
The letters prepared by Dr. Shields, Dr. F. W. Hoyt of Cleveland and E. A. Broome of Toronto, called the Iowa executive's attention to the disturbances at the university, charging "indignities heaped on the trustees," especially aimed at Dr. Shields, a Canadian, and that four Canadian students were obliged to leave Des Moines for Canada three weeks before the close of the semester as they "could be assured of no protection in the city by police."

It is declared the court's injunction protecting interests of American citizens offers no protection to students of other nationalities in the school protected by the laws of Iowa.

"We ask for information," the trustees wrote, "if the recent saying of the great President of the United States, Mr. Herbert Hoover, to the effect that life and property are less secure in the United States than in any civilized country, is to find so unhappy a confirmation in the State which gave him birth."

Another amendment which is said to be offered would place the 100,000 or more census employees under civil service. Despite the fact that this would require the approval of the House and Representatives of patronage, it is said to have a good chance at adoption.

to Decide on ProposalFew Felt Battle Between Branches Might Be Long

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—The farm-relief bill came back to the House today to meet a growing disposition to attempt to conciliate the differences that have arisen between the two houses over the proposed measure.

While the measure rested on the Speaker's table, the leaders called a meeting of the Republican Steering Committee for tomorrow to decide what course will be adopted to deal with the proposal.

Speaker Longworth indicated that in view of the emergency nature of the legislation, there is a growing desire to accede to the wishes of the Senate to send the bill to conference.

In doing so, however, he suggested the probability that a rule will be presented to the House insisting that the Senate has invaded the rights of the House to originate revenue legislation, but expressing the decision to waive that point in view of the emergency.

The speaker said that at the conference tomorrow, it will be determined whether this course will be pursued, or whether the House will refuse to accept the bill and send it back to the Senate.

FLU EPIDEMIC
TREND TRACEDRavages of 1928 Compared

More UniformlyStudy of Data Will Go On to Aid Physicians

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—

Final tabulations of the United States Public Health Service survey of the influenza epidemic last winter show that the disease affected only about half as many persons in each unit of population as it did during the epidemic of 1918, but that its attack was spread out more uniformly over the nation.

The survey was for the purpose of making comparisons between the epidemics of 1918 and of 1928-29, with a view to learning more of the nature of the disease and the progress toward its control. Full analysis of the data collected will require considerable time.

WIDE SCOPE

Cities included in the survey were San Francisco and Seattle on the Pacific Coast; Des Moines, Kansas City, Mo., Cincinnati and Pittsburgh, representing the Middle West; New Orleans, as a southern city; Baltimore, Syracuse and Boston, representing the Northeast; and Farmington, Me., as an example of a small city.

The survey shows that the incidence of pneumonia was about one-third as high in the epidemic of 1928-29 as in that of 1918. It further is pointed out that the 1918 epidemic developed at a season when the prevalence of pneumonia was normally rather low, whereas the recent epidemic came at a season when the prevalence of pneumonia is normally rather high and increasing.

STUDENTS WITH EMPTY
STOMACHS SCORN FOOD

CHARLESTON (S. C.) May 13. (AP)—

Seven hundred students of the Citadel, South Carolina military college, arose with empty stomachs today to face the second day of their hunger strike to protest against the food served in the new hall.

Their leaders declare they have protested continuously against the food and that since nothing was done about it they determined on the strike as the only means of bettering the situation. Officials, however, say they have received no protests.

The strike started yesterday morning when the students marched to breakfast, but left their food untouched. Throughout the day they patronized the canteen.

LUPOLINE DUTY
INCREASE ASKEDEnglebright Says Hop Raisers Want Protection

WASHINGTON, May 13. (AP)—

Among those appearing before the House Ways and Means Committee today to request changes in the Hawley tariff bill was Representative Englebright of California.

He urged an increase from 75 cents to $4.50 a pound in the duty on lupoline, a by-product of hops. One pound of lupoline, Englebright explained, is equivalent to twenty pounds of hops.

The annual imports amount to about $6,000,000. California growers of hops have asked for the $4.50 tariff to protect the hop industry.

International's Loans Held to be Mere Business

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—Two newspaper publishers, Frank E. Gannett of Rochester, N. Y., and Samuel E. Thomson of Chicago, testified today before the Federal Trade Commission about their negotiations with the International Paper and Power Company and its subsidiaries for financial assistance in the purchase of newspapers.

Appearing in connection with the commission's investigation into the International's financial interest in papers, Gannett testified that he has paid back $2,781,183.50 to the International Paper Company, subsidiary of the paper and power company, to free his papers of all obligations to that concern.

OTHERS INVOLVED
Besides listing the $1,000,000 advanced to aid the Bryan-Thomson Newspapers, Inc. in the acquisition of the Chicago Journal, Thomson cited more than a score of other large newspapers in the Middle West and South which he had contemplated purchasing with the backing of the International Paper and Power Company.

Thomson's co-owner with John Stewart Bryan, Virginia publisher of the Bryan-Thomson corporation, declared.

The International, however, did not consider the purchase of all the newspapers he listed, Thomson declared.

The International never gave assurances or indications that it would support the purchase of more than two of the newspapers," he said.

OFFER REJECTED
A third witness, Edwin B. Jeffress, president and business manager of the Greensboro (N. C.) News, testified that William Lavarra and Harold Hall, who purchased four southern newspapers with the backing of the International, had offered him $1,500,000 for his newspaper, but the deal was not consummated.

Hall said there were no power interests back of him, Jeffress testified, and asserted that Lavarra was a "wealthy young man" who had been interested in diamond mines.

In his testimony Thomson listed the newspapers which he had discussed for purchase with International officials, but none of which was bought, as the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, Columbus (O.) Dispatch, Kansas City Star, Atlanta Constitution, Milwaukee Journal, Dayton (O.) Journal, Memphis Commercial Appeal, Detroit Free Press, Cleveland Plain Dealer, Cleveland News, Indianapolis News, Philadelphia In-

Aerial Signal of 2,000,000,000 Candle-Power to Be Placed Atop Chicago Skyscraper

CHICAGO, May 15.—(AP)—The world's most powerful aerial beacon, brighter even than the sun, according to its inventor, will be installed atop the new thirty-seven-story Palmolive Building. Final authorization for the light was sought of the City Council today.

The beacon will have a 2,000,000,000 candlepower per square millimeter. The beacon will be visible as far as 500 miles away, E. M. Sperry, its inventor, has promised. Sperry has offered to donate the beacon in honor of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, and it will be named in honor of that flyer.

Specialized light, which is being constructed in his factory at Brooklyn, will cost $100,000, and will be brighter than the sun, at noon on the brightest day in Chicago the sun's rays have been computed at 900 candlepower per square millimeter on the earth's surface.

Sperry said the light, which is being constructed in his factory at Brooklyn, will cost $100,000, and will be brighter than the sun, at noon on the brightest day in Chicago the sun's rays have been computed at 900 candlepower per square millimeter on the earth's surface.

CATHOLIC ORDER INDORSES DRIVE

Knights of Columbus Favor Fight Against Bigotry

YOSEMITE, May 15.—(AP)—The program of the Calvert Associates in raising a fund for the suppression of bigotry and intolerance in the United States against the Catholic Church was endorsed by the State convention of the Knights of Columbus in session here today. The State's quota of the national fund is $300,000 with $25,000 allotted to the Los Angeles district.

Fred V. Williams of the California division of the Calvert Associates addressed the convention on behalf of the resolution.

Catalina was selected for the 1930 convention.

The knights received a floral piece from the Santa Monica Lodge, C. Harold Caulfield, San Francisco, who was presiding when the flowers arrived, said "the floral tribute from Masonry to Catholicism is deeply appreciated by all Catholics, as it exemplifies the real friendship existing between the two organizations."

FIGHTING AGAIN RAGES IN CHINA

Kwangsi Forces Reported in New Drive on Canton

CANTON (China) May 15.—(AP)—Fragmentary dispatches from the westward districts indicate that heavy fighting again is taking place in the neighborhood of Samshui.

The Kwangsi forces are reported to have renewed their drive against this city, combining with anti-Cantonese rebels. Cantonese airplanes, participating in the fighting from their base here, are reported to have sunk two Kwangsi gunboats with bombs.

The situation to the east of here is much disturbed. Isolated Kwangsi forces are reported advancing on this city, at present being midway between here and Hongkong. The Cantonese have dispatched two trainloads of troops to attempt to halt the advance.

Silver and bank notes continue to pour in to the foreign consulates on the island of Shamshui for safe custody. Four truckloads of bank notes arrived at one time.

PLAN OF YOUNG GIVEN TO ALLIES

Germany's Creditors Finally Get Compromise Draft

Reparations Negotiations
Believed Under Way

Delegates Casting Friendly
Eyes Toward Figures

PARIS, May 15. (AP)—Germany's creditors finally have before them tonight the reparations compromise proposed by Owen D. Young with the main German conditions woven into the text of the report, and what many describe as the real negotiations of the reparations conference have begun.

Heretofore, neither the Allied demands nor the German offer were accepted by the other side as a basis for discussion.

A primary session of the second Dawes committee to take decisive action may be called tomorrow afternoon, but more probably it will meet on Friday.

It is as uncertain as ever what will be the ultimate result of more than three months of labor on the reparations problem, but one expert said this evening that it seems to him all the delegates are "casting a friendly look at the figures."

There is a general feeling also among the Americans and the British that the German conditions offer no formidable obstacle. The great difficulty continues to be the question of who will bear the burden of reduction from the Allied minimum demands.

It was evening before the French and English texts of the report were distributed and the Germans were busy until a late hour with their translation. Even now there are a number of wrinkles to be ironed out because several German suggestions, rejected by the English and Mr. Young as irrelevant or objectionable, are presented on a separate sheet and must be discussed.

The report drafted by Sir Josiah is a sixty-page document of about 15,000 words with blanks for the figures. It is based on the idea of reaching unanimity on the figures and conditions, although distribution of the payments among the Allies might be left for the governments to settle.

RADIOPHOTO SERVICE TO EAST OPENS

Angelenos' Likenesses by Ether to London, Marks
R.C.A. Inaugural

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15. (Ex-clusive)—R. C. A. Communications, Inc., affiliated with the Radio Corporation of America, inaugurated the transmission of pictures by radio from here to London in appropriate ceremonies at the company's offices today, sending the pictures of several diplomatic officials and motion-picture stars to England.

Mayor Rolph of this city and Mayor Walker of London today launched the ceremonies by writing telegrams of felicitations to each other and photographs of their actions were sent by radio across the continent.

With this accomplished the trans-Atlantic service was put into operation by transmission of the likeness of Henry Bancroft Whitney, British Vice-Consul in Los Angeles; Henri Dido, French Consul at Los Angeles; Rose Daniels and Betty Compson.

G. Harold Porter, western division manager for R. C. A. Communications, Inc., began the service the first step in a new field. This enterprise promises tremendous possibilities and will add much prominence to California as an important link in the world-wide chain of radio communications.

GOV. LONG BEATEN BY CLOSE VOTE

Louisiana Senate Court of Impeachment Nearly Ends Own Existence

BATON ROUGE (La.) May 15. (AP)—By the slim majority of one vote the Senate court of impeachment sitting in judgment on Gov. Long was saved today from dissolution.

Attacked on constitutional grounds, the court for a time today was in danger of sudden demise, but broke through the storm on the tide of a twenty to nineteen roll call. The issue came in the vote on the Governor's first demurrer holding that all charges except the first were illegal because they had been voted by the House of Representatives after April 6, the time limit of the Governor's call for the extraordinary session of the Legislature.

If this demurrer had been sustained, with the subsequent rejection of charge No. 1, by a vote of 21 to 18, the court of impeachment automatically would have been closed down and the Governor freed on all charges.

But now trial will proceed tomorrow unless Gov. Long obtains an injunction from the courts to halt the proceedings, a course predicted in some quarters as probable.

"Segregation" County Affair

MEXICO CITY, May 15. (AP)—United States Ambassador Morrow told Mexican newspaper men today that the asserted segregation of Mexican school children in San Bernardino county, California, is strictly an affair of that county, and that he cannot act in the case unless it becomes an international one through official representations by the Mexican government to the United States government.

STATE ASKS QUOTA SET FOR MEXICO

Senate Votes Resolution
Petitioning Congress to Restrict Immigration

SACRAMENTO, May 15. (AP)—Restriction of the immigration of Mexicans into the United States is asked of Congress by a resolution adopted by the California Senate today.

The resolution by Assemblymen Anderson, Jones, Lyons, Adams, Bernard and Fisher was withdrawn from the Senate Federal Relations Committee this morning and passed by the upper house. It already has been adopted by the Assembly.

Representatives and Senators from California in Congress are asked to sponsor legislation designed to restrict Mexican immigration and place them under a quota annually.

S. F. Man Says Friends See Big Change in Him

"Seven years is a long time to be sick, but I suffered so much and was so badly rundown, it seemed like it was ten times that long."

Three bottles of Sargol made me a well man. Not only that,

GILBERT J. BURKE

It increased my weight six pounds and did more for me than all the other medicines and treatments I took in these seven years put together.

"I don't know what was the matter with me, but it looked like I lost just about all the strength and energy I ever had. I suffered with severe pains in my back and legs, and was so weak all the time, that it was all I could do to even get up and down a short flight of stairs. My appetite left me, my stomach was all out of order, and the little I ate disagreed with me. I had such pains in my stomach, and up around my heart, after meals, that I thought I had heart trouble, and suffered with such shortness of breath at times, that I almost had to fight to keep breathing. I was so nervous at nights that I didn't know what restful sleep was. Then, constipation and biliousness came on. I lost weight and was worn out and exhausted."

"I don't know how many different medicines and treatments I took—but I was taking them for seven years—and if they ever did me any good I don't know anything about it. Then, I decided to try the Sargol treatment, and I never would have believed that any medicine on earth could have done as much for me in such a short time. Why, I had just started the medicine when I commenced to be hungry. Now I eat three big meals a day, without the slightest sign of trouble, go to bed and sleep like a tired kid after a hard day's fishing, and get up in the morning refreshed, ready for a man's size breakfast, and feeling just as strong and good as I want to feel. Every ache and pain has gone out of my back and legs. I can get around with the best of them now, and am feeling like a man made all over again."

"Sargol Soft Mass Pills are different from any laxative I ever used. They ended my constipation and biliousness, and they don't cause any trouble in the least. They are mild but certain, and my friends all notice what a remarkable change this wonderful treatment has made in me."

The above grateful statement was recently made by Gilbert J. Burke, of 970 Post St., San Francisco, who is well known and highly esteemed by a wide circle of friends.

Mardi, and merit alone can explain the instant and phenomenal demand for Sargol. Thousands of California people are now taking it with the most gratifying results. Sargol is not only a powerful reconstructive tonic designed to impart tone and strength to entire system, but it is a constitutional treatment as well, and exerts a tremendous influence upon the processes of digestion and elimination.

AIR MAPPERS OFF TO ALASKA

Four Navy Planes Take Off from San Diego

Expected to Hop from Puget Sound Saturday

Twelve Thousand Miles to be Recorded

SAN DIEGO, May 13.—Off for the land of totem poles and Eskimo to make an aerial mapping survey of approximately 12,000 square miles of Alaskan coast line and islands, four naval amphibian planes took off at 10:30 a. m. today for Puget Sound.

The planes were to fly to the Puget Sound region via an inland route, with Fresno as the first stop scheduled, according to reports at the air station. They were expected to arrive at the Puget Sound region tomorrow and on Saturday plan to hop to Sitka, where the first base of the expedition is to be established.

The aircraft tender Gannet, commanded by Lieut. Thomas MacKinnon, which left here a week ago Monday for the North, now is at Puget Sound and also is to depart for Sitka Saturday.

City Directors Authorize Balloting June 18

Pine Canyon Site Proposed in San Gabriel

PASADENA, May 13.—This city's twenty-year fight to secure an adequate water supply was brought a long step toward victory today when the Board of City Directors decided on June 18 as the date for the election of a proposed dam at the Pine Canyon site in San Gabriel Canyon.

The decision to hold an election next month follows a lengthy report on the water situation submitted to City Manager R. V. Crabb by Samuel B. Morris, superintendent of the municipal water department, in which it is asserted that the available water supplies are being overdrawn at the rate of 18,000 acre-feet a year and that the future growth of the city depends upon the speedy realization of the Pine Canyon dam project.

SOME FUNDS AVAILABLE

The entire cost of the dam and of a conduit measuring five feet in diameter that will carry the water from the reservoir to Pasadena is estimated at $10,000,000. Of this sum there is $3,000,000 available.

Morris asserted that "every preliminary step toward securing a permanent water supply from San Gabriel Canyon has been taken and the financing will be the final step before construction starts."

SUPPLY ESTIMATED

According to figures compiled by the water department, the annual yield of water to Pasadena from the project will be 35,000 acre-feet of water, which added to the present supply, will care for the needs of 250,000 persons, or almost three times the present population.

ELECTION RUSHED

Decision to hold the bond election in the immediate future followed the recent decision of the Board of City Supervisors that it would be illegal for Pasadena to obtain the water by erecting a separate dam through which the water would be diverted to the city-owned control dam located above the Pine Canyon site.

The City Directors stress the fact that if the $10,000,000 bond issue is authorized, the bonds will be sold only as required to finance the construction.

They also point to the recent action of the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California, which has agreed to purchase the Pine Canyon dam from Pasadena for use as the Southern California terminal for the Colorado River aqueduct, at which time this city would expect to secure an adequate supply of water from the Boulder Canyon dam.

The huge reservoir was started two months ago on the site of the old city reservoir at the head of Grove street. The use of the site saved the city expenditure for new property, and according to the present arrangement, the reservoir will cost approximately $60,000.

'LIBERATOR' OF HAWAII SUCCUMBS

Henry E. Cooper Stricken With Heart Attack While Visitor in Long Beach

LONG BEACH, May 13.—Henry E. Cooper, 73 years of age, popularly known as the "Liberator of Hawaii," died last night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. O. H. Huestved, here Sunday.

His spectacular political career in Hawaii extended from 1890 to 1900, when he retired to practice law in Honolulu. Hawaiian history books of the twentieth century is the story of the overthrow of the monarchy of the Kingdom of Hawaii, without his recognition of citizenship in the United States.

A special order of the Queen in 1891 made him a citizen of the Kingdom of Hawaii, without his recognition of citizenship in the United States.

Cooper was born in New Albany, Ind., August 24, 1847. He was graduated from Boston University law school in 1874, and was admitted to the Suffolk county, Mass., bar. He came to California in the early 90's, locating at San Diego, and was named general counsel for the California Southern Railway.

In 1890 he was called to Hawaii as legal adviser to the kingdom. Three years later was chairman of the committee of safety in the revolution that overthrew the monarchy and established the republic of Hawaii. On January 17, 1893, he read the proclamation of the republic in the name of the United States.

He was a member of the advisory council of the provisional government of Hawaii. Circuit Court judge from 1893 to 1900. Member of Provisional Affairs from 1895 to 1899. Attorney General in 1899 and 1900 and at various other times served as the head of the Department of Justice, Education and Interior.

He has lived in comparative retirement since coming to Hawaii, although two years ago he decided to declare the formation of the Hawaii Irrigation District (H.I.D.). This case is still undecided in the Riverside County Superior Court.

Judge Cooper leaves his widow and three sons, three daughters, one son, Theodore, who is a year ago. The sons and daughters are Arthur D. Cooper, Manila, Iloilo; Francis J. Cooper, Honolulu; F. L. Mrs. George W. Bailey, Weston, Mass.; Mrs. James Hine, Winton, N. C.; and Mrs. O. H. Huestved, Long Beach.

HIGH SCHOOL OFFERS FULL AIR COURSE

Carpenter Prepares to Give Four-Year Training to Turn Out Flyers

CARPENTHERIA, May 13.—The Union High School here will be one of the first high schools in the State and the only one in Santa Barbara county, which next year will offer to its students a four-year course in aviation.

At present the school is offering a fundamental course in aviation next year will start a complete course of four years, a new school added each year, making it possible for freshmen to enter the school and begin majoring in aviation.

Arrangements have been practically completed to have a naval air base here, which will be the site of the school. The school will be operated by the Navy, and one of the company's pilots will be secured, according to Hawley, to assist in giving the course.

BANNING EXPECTS

DAY AMERICAN Legion Speedway dirt track contest will mark the launching of the twenty-eighth annual Banning event here since the building of the track in 1906.

With the event still two weeks away already more than a score of Southern California's best-known dirt-track drivers have filed their entry blanks or made application for them, according to Harry F. Bann, secretary.

WISCONSIN DRY REPEAL VOTED

Senate Ballot Kills Law on Enforcement

Governor's Signature Said to be Assured

Action Follows Wet Victory at April Election

MADISON (Wis.) May 15. (AP)—The Wisconsin Senate voted today, 21 to 9, to repeal the State dry law, leaving only Gov. Walter J. Kohler's signature necessary to wipe the measure off the statute books.

Passage of the Grob-Schmidt bill providing for repeal of the State dry law by the Senate followed similar action by the lower house of the Legislature. The measure abolishes the State Prohibition Department and the dry laws, but retains regulations that concern sale of liquor to minors.

Repeal of the dry-enforcement law was generally expected, following a referendum on the prohibition question held in Wisconsin on April 2 last. At that time the voters favored repeal by a majority of 143,000. At the same time they voted to legalize the manufacture of beer containing 2.75 per cent alcohol.

A handful of dry Senators led by Senator Howard Treadwell, attempted to amend various phases of the Grob-Schmidt bill, but their efforts were blocked. Senator Walter S. Goodland, the admiral, the spokesman, vigorously urged passage of the bill and denounced the efforts of drys to "train the Federal dry law down the throats of Wisconsin citizens and the citizens of thirty-one other States."

The "wet" predicted Gov. Kohler will affix his signature to the Grob-Schmidt bill without hesitation.

LARGE FUND CONTRIBUTED TO WETS IN WISCONSIN

MADISON (Wis.) May 15. (Exclusive)—Contributions of $123,000 were made to the Association Opposed to the Prohibition Amendment during January and February, according to a statement filed with Secretary of State Damann.

While no Wisconsin donors are named on the list, persons of national prominence subscribed toward the fund, of which $20,000 was spent prior to the referendum which repealed the State dry laws. Among the largest contributors were Pierre Dupont with $31,325, and John J. Raskob, $13,535.

It was revealed by the Secretary of State that correspondence had passed between his office and the Anti-Saloon League in regard to the $2000 which the drys asserted they spent to fight the repeal referendum.

According to Mr. Damann, neither the wet nor dry organization filed itemized accounts of receipts as demanded in the Corrupt Practices Act, but merely listed their expenditures.

Mr. Damann said Anti-Saloon League officials contend this revealing the names of donors to the dry cause brings persecution and that trouble arising out of publishing the names had caused many to withdraw their support.

VETERANS END ANNUAL ASSEMBLY

Spanish-American War
Groups Install Angelino
as State Commander

SACRAMENTO, May 15. (Exclusive)—The twenty-sixth annual encampment of California Department, Spanish-American War Veterans, came to a close here tonight with the installation of officers for the ensuing year.

C. O. Munson of Los Angeles, as commander, and Frank R. Graves of Oakland, as vice-commander, were elected to those posts without opposition at today's session. Other officers chosen were: J. L. Stewart of San Diego, junior vice-commander; John R. Tyrrell, judge-advocate; Dr. J. Monroe Haddock, Oakland, surgeon; Rev. Charles S. Vall, Los Angeles, chaplain; Robert Keys, Long Beach, patriotic instructor; Donald L. Bass, Roseville, marshal, and Ralph W. Eastman, Vallejo, historian.

Los Angeles, East Oakland and San Jose were given awards for taking first places in various divisions of a membership drive conducted by the posts during the past year.

Tonight's banquet of past commanders was held and thirteen retired heads of the organization were in attendance. The banquet was given by the posts during the past year.

During the afternoon the drum corps of the organization held competitive drill in Capitol Park, with Gov. Young as a spectator. The drum corps of Modesto, Cal., of Long Beach also entertained the State Senate.

POISON CAKE PLOT MAKES TWELVE ILL

Inquiry Begun in Chicago as Victims Face Death Due to Eating at Party

CHICAGO, May 15. (AP)—A powerful poison placed in flour later used to bake a cake tonight was blamed for the serious condition of twelve persons who attended a party and ate the cake. Health Commissioner Kaplan, investigating, branded the presence of the poison in the flour as a "wholesale attempt to murder," and ordered police to investigate.

The stricken persons are relatives and friends of Frank J. Riehlman, who attended a party at his home Sunday night, which Joe Brown and the home-baked cake were served. All the guests became ill and some day patients in the hospital were said to be critical. The victims range from 15 to 74 years of age.

Police investigators took the package of cake flour and an analysis showed almost a cup of the poison had been placed in the package. It had been placed in the side of the carton, which had been sealed.

No motive for the poisoning was advanced.

Legislators
Urge Congress
Ban Filipinos

SACRAMENTO, May 15. (AP)—One of the final acts of the forty-eighth biennial session of the California Legislature was the passage tonight of a resolution memorializing Congress to exclude Filipinos from the United States or at least to sharply restrict their immigration to this country. The Senate took final legislative action on Assemblyman Adams' resolution by approving it without debate.

This was the measure that caused some little debate in the lower house when Adams introduced it, urging the passage on the ground that unrestricted immigration of Filipinos caused an unjust and unfair competition to American labor and nullified the beneficial results to be expected from a national policy of restrictive immigration.

Sinclair, in Jail,
Re-elected Head of Oil Company

NEW YORK, May 15. (AP)—Harry F. Sinclair, serving a jail sentence for contempt of the Senate, was re-elected chairman of the board of directors of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation at the annual stockholders' meeting today.

Of the 4,578,861 shares represented at the meeting, or about 80 per cent of the stock entitled to ballot, 4,368,861 were voted for Sinclair and a slightly smaller total for the remainder of the directorate slate, which included three new members: P. D. C. Hays of St. Louis, George MacDonald of New York and P. W. Thurtle, comptroller of the company. They replace H. P. Whitney and E. H. Clark, who resigned, and the late W. H. Iacon. Other directors were re-elected.

QUESTION OF BOY'S AGE PUZZLES COURT

UPLAND, May 15.—How old is Elmer Huls? Local police are trying to find out. When Huls was arrested Sunday on a charge of highway robbery with a deadly weapon he gave his age as 19 years and was booked under that age for hearing. Now his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Huls, 1233 Kendrick street, Los Angeles, insist he is only 14. If it is proved to the satisfaction of the court that he is only 14 his case will be transferred to the juvenile department, where his partner, Eugene Shaw, 15, is now held. The two boys are charged with having held up and robbed Denton Dahl, 15-year-old Los Angeles popcorn salesman, on Hollywood boulevard near here. Huls will have preliminary hearing here the 21st inst.

DESERT YIELDS MURDER VICTIM

Youth Confesses Killing of Arizona Salesman

Mesa Man Slain April 26 by Runaway Boy

Prisoner Admits Shooting
His Benefactor Twice

PHOENIX, May 15. (AP)—The Arizona desert, mother of countless secrets, reluctantly gave up its dead today when county and city officers removed a thin layer of loose soil from what is believed to be the body of Jack Martin, 27-year-old Mesa (Ariz.) salesman, where it had been given a hasty burial in a dry wash. The body was found approximately a quarter of a mile from the highway in a wash in the desert where Richard Burrows, 15, foster son of wealthy Chicago parents, told Phoenix officers over the telephone he had buried the body.

He confessed in Denver last night that on April 26, he killed the salesman in the desert. He was found in the desert with marks of bullet holes through his clothing that is discernible, as the body is so badly decomposed that nothing can be gained in examining the body itself.

The body was removed to Glen Dale, Ariz., and had been viewed by the coroner, and tomorrow afternoon an inquest will be conducted.

CRIME DESCRIBED IN YOUTH'S CONFESSION

DENVER, May 15. (AP)—With a twisted grin on his face, Richard Burrows, 15-year-old adopted son of a wealthy Chicago, live-stock dealer, tonight confessed that the body of Jack Martin, 27, salesman, to whom Burrows has confessed, was found in the dry ditch near Beardsley, Ariz., where he had thrown it.

The runaway from St. John's Military Academy at Delafield, Wash., whose adventure ended with his arrest here Saturday on suspicion of killing a salesman, and his confession, tonight said that he murdered the man who owned it, laughed and joked with the officers as he told them of his crime.

Burrows, stranded in Phoenix, Ariz., when the mother of Million Drucker, with whom Burrows had been in custody at the mother's request, arrived and took her son back east, started to beat his way home.

BROKE AND HUNGRY, he was picked up on the road near Agula, Ariz., by Martin, who fed him and gave him a lift as far as Phoenix, Ariz., where Burrows shot and killed Martin and in the dead man's car continued his way east.

For Burrows, fifteen minutes the youth talked over a long-distance telephone this afternoon to Arizona authorities, who had received information from Martin's body, after they had been advised of Burrows' confession here.

He hit him over the head with his gun after both of us had been drinking beer, then I shot him twice and his body is in a dry ditch near some heaps of dirt that looked as if they had been piled up by a steam shovel. The heaps are about twenty-five feet high and a block or so from the road. You will find him if you go to the right place," the boy told the Arizona officers.

FOUND LATER
Three hours later came the word that the officers had located the "right place" and found the body.

Burrows told the authorities here that shortly after he killed Martin on April 26 he was arrested in Albuquerque, N. M., on suspicion that he was driving a stolen car. He told the police there he was Jack Martin and when they checked with Arizona authorities and found the car was registered under Martin's name he was released.

Preparations have been begun to take Burrows back to Arizona to face a murder charge.

Father Dies as Daughter Weds
Against Wish

SPOKANE, May 15. (AP)—Mad-dened, police believe, by his daughter's insistence that she be allowed to marry the man of her choice, Andrew T. Bell, 40 years of age, Los Angeles salesman, took his own life with poison today.

Bell's young widow said, had bitterly opposed his daughter's marriage to a wrestler and after the wedding refused to recognize it. When the young couple left their hotel today in an automobile the father jumped into another car and ordered its driver to follow them.

Rollan E. Young, the driver, said that when he lost the other car in traffic Bell swallowed some kind of powder.

Meat Purchase
Leads to Jail

BAKERSFIELD, May 15.—J. O. Holgin is in the County Jail and Tom Bakersfield, grocer, is nursing a wounded wrist as the result of a battle which had its inception in an argument concerning the sale of a piece of meat, it was reported today at police headquarters. Holgin was hooked on the police blotter with disturbing the peace, but according to officials a more serious charge will be filed against him by Balos.

Available details of the affair are meager, but according to reports to the police, Holgin went to the store at Humboldt and Baker street to buy meat and an argument ensued between him and Balos. Balos asserts that Holgin picked up a butcher knife from the counter and slashed him across the wrist with it, according to the police.

OIL-SAVING PACT GIVEN TO PUBLIC

Tulsa Paper Prints Draft of Wilbur Proposal

Conference of States to Draw Legislation

Capping of Uncontrolled
Wells to be Ordered

TULSA (Okla.) May 15. (AP)—The Tulsa World today made public the proposed oil States pact providing for the regulation of drilling, production, refining and distribution of oil, as drafted by Secretary Wilbur of the Department of Interior. The pact was described as the first step in a national petroleum conservation program.

The newspaper said Secretary Wilbur's proposal calls for a conference of representatives of three or more oil States participating, with members of the Federal Conservation Board, at which tentative legislation will be drawn for submission to legislatures of the oil States. The agreement, it said, already has been presented informally to the Governors of Texas, Oklahoma and California, States named tentatively as original signatories.

PLANS FOR BOARD
The proposed pact provides for establishment of the "Interstate Conservation Board" composed of members appointed by Governors of signatory States and stipulates that each member be a "qualified expert" in geology, or the production, refining and distribution of petroleum and gas, the World said. Expenses of the board will be borne equally by signatory States.

The documents also provide, according to the newspaper, that "production, refining and distribution by any method whereby the maximum feasible recovery of gasoline is not affected are declared to be opposed to public interest," and "it is to be declared unlawful to permit the flow of oil or gas from any well to escape into the open air without being confined . . . for a longer period than two days after oil or gas has been struck."

POWER GIVEN BODY
The Interstate Board will have power to supervise regulations, drilling, production and refining operations declared opposed to public interest, and to appoint and authorize agents to carry out its orders.

The proposed pact will become binding and obligatory when approved by Congress and legislatures of signatory States.

E. B. Bauer, president of the American Petroleum Institute, said he was surprised that the document had been made public and declined to comment until after it has been officially announced "Thursday or later" by Secretary Wilbur.

How Scientific Herd Feeding

PROTECTS the Quality of ARDEN Certified MILK

(Left) The careful scientific care given to feeding is one of the reasons why ARDEN Certified Milk is the quality leader of Southern California. Each cow's balanced ration is handled separately.

(Below) ARDEN Certified Milk is Double-Capped Protected Natural whole milk. It is produced under Daily Inspection of Milk Commission—Los Angeles County Medical Association. It holds many first prizes for purity and quality.

(Right) Nos. 462, 463 and 465 of the prize winning ARDEN herd about to receive the semi-daily portion of their scientifically balanced diets. Note white linen suits of attendant.

HERE'S a sample menu of the prize-winning herd at the ARDEN dairy farm.

A measured quantity of hay and ensilage.

A concentrated feeding of bran, barley, oats, cornmeal, linseed meal, beet pulp and mineral.

Pure clear water drawn from deep ARDEN wells.

Careful scientific comparisons over a 23-year period have proved that this ration brings three advantages:

It assures a milk of unequaled food value.

It produces a milk of more uniform flavor.

It adds to the general contentment of the cows—a vital point.

Yet this is but one of many factors that guarantee you a superior milk when you specify ARDEN Certified. Let us point out a few more by explaining just how your milk is PROTECTED before it reaches you.

To 38° in 3 Minutes

At a regular hour, which never varies, each cow is brought in to the spotless, sunlit ARDEN barns.

Next she is brushed, washed, and dried. Then ARDEN milkers, neatly uniformed in spotless white, with close fitting caps, take charge.

As soon as a cow is milked, the milker carries his pail personally to the screened milk room 12 feet above ground and 100 feet from the nearest cow. Here he pours the warm milk into a receiving funnel carefully PROTECTED by strainer and gauze. From this tank the milk passes immediately to cooling vats where its temperature is quickly reduced to 38° F.

The entire process, from milking to complete temperature reduction takes less than 3 minutes. This rapid cooling assures you that ARDEN'S original natural whole milk purity is completely PROTECTED.

From these cooling tanks the milk descends directly to the automatic bottling machine where it is double capped for further protection.

Soon you have it in your own refrigerator—ARDEN—the certified milk that has been awarded prize after prize in open competition with leading certified milks of America—the finest milk that money can buy.

Bottles Washed with LIVE STEAM

Now note what happens to the empty bottles you "set out" in exchange for your daily quart of ARDEN Certified Milk.

They are first washed thoroughly by hand in a soda solution, rinsed in moderately hot water and carefully inspected.

Next they are placed in a huge sterilization cylinder where, for 15 minutes they are sprayed with LIVE STEAM at 100 lbs. pressure. From this cylinder bottles are placed in an air tight cooling room to await refilling. A final inspection is given before bottle enters refilling machine.

Two Kinds of ARDEN MILK

Two distinct public needs are filled with ARDEN Certified Milk.

ARDEN Rich Table Milk is best for older children and adults. It has special nutritive and body-building values.

ARDEN Certified Holstein Milk is especially easy to digest and is therefore adapted for infant feeding and for invalids. Its smaller butter fat globules more closely resemble mother's milk.

Both are PROTECTED Natural Whole Milk. Both contain an abundance of Vitamins A, B, and C.

Why be Satisfied With Any But the Best?

Milk is a vital food. Essential to infants and growing children, it is also one of the most nutritive foods for adults.

Why not have the best—ARDEN—the first certified milk in Southern California—now entering its 24th year of quality leadership.

STOCK TICKER DEAL EFFECTED

Los Angeles Exchange Wires to be Extended

Both Security Markets Will
Invalidate Bay Cities

Quotations of Parent Board to Enter San Diego

Tickers carrying quotations of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange will invade San Diego in the south and Oakland and San Francisco to the north within the next thirty days, Carl Miller, secretary and manager of the exchange, announced yesterday following completion of negotiations with the Western Union Telegraph Company.

Although only the stock exchange tickers will be extended to San Diego, the agreement with the Western Union provides for the installation of both the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and Los Angeles Curb Exchange tickers to the bay cities.

In addition, negotiations are expected to be concluded for further extension of the ticker system to Bakersfield, Fresno and Santa Barbara immediately following installation in San Francisco and Oakland.

The completion of this program will mean the addition of seventy-five tickers to the present total of about 200 for both exchanges. Based on past experience it is expected that once the tickers are installed the system will expand rapidly in the territories served.

This extension, Mr. Miller said, is in line with a program of the exchange to extend its ticker wires throughout the coast region to take in the Pacific Northwest as well as San Luis Obispo.

The first stock ticker service operating in Los Angeles was inaugurated nearly five years ago and carried the Los Angeles Stock Exchange quotations. The following year the eastern services were brought beyond Chicago and in February last year the San Francisco Stock Exchange extended its tickers here.

Los Angeles now has a total of more than 400 tickers carrying quotations of the New York Stock and Curb, Chicago grain, New York-New Orleans Cotton and San Francisco and Los Angeles exchanges. The present total is four times that at the beginning of 1927, and is an increase in one year of about 70 per cent.

Richfield Sales of Aviation Gas Running Heavy

Contracts for aviation gasoline just signed by the Richfield Oil Company will amount to not less than $2,500,000 in sales during the next twelve months, G. M. Fuller, president of the company, announced yesterday.

The Transcontinental Air Transport, which is expected to start its transcontinental combination air and railway system from New York to Los Angeles on July 1, is among the concerns under contract and will use Richfield aviation gas for its western division, according to Mr. Fuller.

The company is supplying the Western Air Express for the service to Kansas City and has established six service depots for this air route and in addition it is taking care of this aviation concern's needs at Los Angeles, San Francisco, Las Vegas, Nevada and Salt Lake City, Utah.

The Standard Air Lines and the Matador Air Lines are also being supplied by the Richfield Company.

Mr. Fuller added that Richfield is starting distribution of its aviation gasoline on the Atlantic seaboard and has closed contracts at forty of the largest airports in the East.

Seaboard Oil Plans Boost of Capital Stock

NEW YORK, May 15. (Exclusive) Seaboard Oil Company today approved an increase in the authorized capitalization from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 shares, and the sale of 200,000 shares of additional common to shareholders at $25 a share.

The sale of the stock will be used to retire funded indebtedness and to provide additional working capital.

The new natural gas line being constructed between the company's Sutton-Wilford field in California and San Francisco by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company will be ready September 1. Important developments also are under way in the Hawaiian field.

The company, which reported a large deficit last year, has turned the corner, according to company officials, and will submit substantial net earnings for the first quarter of the year.

Tide Water Oil Earnings Drop

NEW YORK, May 15. (Exclusive) Tide Water Associated Oil Company for the March quarter showed consolidated net income of $1,818,871, equal after preferred dividends to 11 cents a share on 4,502,519 common shares, against $2,071,473, or 20 cents a share on 4,700,140 shares in the comparative period of 1927, according to a statement issued today.

Tide Water Oil Company, not including operations of the Tidewater Oil Company, which recently merged with the Deery Petroleum Corporation, reported third-quarter net income of $661,220, against $742,778 in the 1927 period. It was announced that the stockholders of the Tide Water Oil Company and the Deery Petroleum Corporation had formally approved the merger of the two concerns.

Arizona Mine Sale Ratified

PHOENIX, May 15. (Exclusive) As a meeting of the stockholders of the Southern Arizona Development Company held in Phoenix May 8, approval was given to the proposed sale of the properties owned by the concern, located in the Globe-Miami district, to the Inspiring Consolidated Copper Company of Miami. It was learned today.

No announcement was made as to the consideration involved in the transfer, but it is reported unofficially that the deal involves approximately $500,000. The Southern Arizona Development Company owns approximately twelve mines and various mining claims in Arizona county.

DETROIT CREAMERY TAKEN BY NATIONAL

NEW YORK, May 15. (Exclusive) Directors of Detroit Creamery approved today consolidation with National Dairy Products Corporation by an exchange of stock, according to Thomas H. McInerney, president of National. Full details will be announced later. Detroit Creamery is the largest company of its kind operating in Michigan and annual sales exceed $20,000,000.

WILLIS SPIES RUMOR ON SELLING HOLDINGS

TOLEDO, May 15. (Exclusive)—J. H. Willis, president of the Willis Overland Company, as the company today denied that he contemplated selling his personal holdings in the company or merging the company with other interests. He added that every individual point to 1929 as one of the most successful years in the history of the company. Officers and directors were re-elected.

DOUGLAS AIRCRAFT MEETING NOT HELD

Because of the lack of a quorum the scheduled meeting yesterday of the directors of the Douglas Aircraft Company, Inc., was postponed to a date yet to be announced. Officers of the company reported, however, that only routine business was to have been acted upon at the meeting. At the Santa Monica office it was announced that the first of the Twenty-five POT flying boats the company is building for the United States Navy successfully completed its test flight at San Diego Tuesday.

Net Profits on Calculator Up

SAN FRANCISCO, May 15. (Exclusive)—Marchant Calculating Machine Company today reported net profits for the year ended December 31, last, after Federal tax of $27,300, equivalent after preferred dividends to $1.94 a share on the 168,113 shares of outstanding common stock.

In July, 1928, the company paid cumulative dividends on the 7 1/2 per cent preferred stock. Sales for 1928 were 43 per cent ahead of the preceding year. Current assets at the close of 1928 were $1,008,426, as against current liabilities of $1,188,758.

OLD YARDSTICK FAVORED

Poor's Service Reaffirms Faith in 10 Per Cent Rule; Believes Public Follows Wrong Tenet

BY HARRY E. CROWE

Among the current contributions to stock market literature is a discussion in Poor's weekly business letter of the old and new methods of establishing the value and price of stocks. Poor's elects to follow the teaching of the old rule of ten times earnings as the most reliable basis of value for industrial stocks, instead of the newer yardsticks of fifteen, twenty or twenty-five times.

In setting forth the case for the old 10 per cent rule the Poor's service advances the idea that banking authorities might more successfully correct the credit situation if the old yardstick method of values were thoroughly impressed upon the minds of the speculators. It is contended that the attempt to regulate the market of credit and capital to the stock market attacks one of the basic of the credit problem; the other is to regulate the point of view of the borrower.

Miller Denies Report of Seat Sales on Mart

Reports that the Pacific National Company and the Union Company have purchased memberships on the Los Angeles Stock and Curb exchanges, that Butte & Co. has acquired the stock exchange membership of Charles J. King, and that all stock exchange treasury memberships have now been exhausted, are unofficial and unauthentic, it was announced yesterday by Carl P. Miller, secretary and manager of the stock exchange.

Of the five stock exchange treasuries announced recently created to provide funds for the construction of the new Los Angeles Stock Exchange Building, two have been purchased, a third is under option, and two others remain yet to be sold, Mr. Miller said.

Neither the Pacific National Company nor the Union Company, the latter the investment arm of the Union Bank and Trust Company, has acquired any stock exchange membership, he said. Butte & Co., several months ago acquired memberships on both the Los Angeles Stock and Curb exchanges.

An active demand prevails for memberships on the stock exchange, and undoubtedly the remaining treasury memberships will be sold in the near future, Mr. Miller stated.

The three treasury memberships have all been sold at the record price of $150,000.

Slight Gain in Local Retail Sales Volume

Although retail sales are still far from satisfactory throughout the Los Angeles territory, dealers report a small increase during the past week while wholesalers report business fair with little future business booked despite the lower prices prevailing this year, according to the weekly review of the Bradstreet company.

Traders generally appear to be holding down inventories and only the most essential goods are being stocked. Cases for the 10 per cent rule in all lines and large retail stores are opening branch units in outlying districts to overcome neighborhood stores which have taken a large portion of business away from the large downtown companies where traffic congestion is acute.

The furniture business and its allied lines show a little better position, although this industry has been quiet for the last two years. Automobile dealers, especially those bringing out new models at lower prices, are finding good markets.

While the higher-priced car distributors state that the volume in dollars is about the same as last year, the reduction is being further curtailed.

New Issues Due on Mart Today

Shares of an investment trust and railroad equipment certificates are included in the new financing to be offered today for distribution on the Pacific Coast. Samuel Undergelder & Co. is tendering initial financing for the Undergelder Financial Corporation, recently formed under the laws of Delaware as an investment trust by interests including Samuel Undergelder, W. C. Duran, William Fox and David Bernheim of the Fox and Low motion picture companies. The offering consists of 500,000 shares of the capital stock priced at $25 a share.

A new issue of $18,000,000 serial 6 per cent equipment trust certificates of the Canadian National Railways is being marketed by a syndicate composed of Chase Securities Corporation, Blair & Co., Inc., and associates. The certificates are priced to yield from 5.19 to 5.79 per cent, according to maturity. The financing represents less than 75 per cent of the cash cost of the equipment pledged as collateral for these securities. It is stated.

EARNINGS OF CREDIT UNIT JUMP

Seaboard Dairy Reports
Net in Quarter Double
That for 1927 Period

Net profits of the Seaboard Dairy Credit Corporation for the four months ended April 30, last, more than doubled the amount earned by the predecessor company for the same period last year, according to a statement issued yesterday by the company.

After allowance for preferred dividends paid and accrued of $22,261, there remained $99,523 available for the common stock, equal to approximately $1.09 a share on the $1,000 common shares outstanding at the close of the period.

The company also announced the election to the board of directors of James H. Chase, former vice-president of the Marine Bank, and a director of the First National Bank of Beverly Hills and chairman of the First National Bank of Beverly Hills.

April net profits were the highest of any month in the period, which was attributed by officials to the opening last month of a branch office in Portland, Ore., to take charge of the entire Northwest territory. This business, officials stated, proved much larger than was expected, and the net income increased as the clearing up of the foot-and-mouth disease, which retarded dairy operations at the beginning of the year.

Gross earnings for the four months totaled $184,101, and operating expenses, $77,233. After payment of $45.54 for common stock dividends, $77,233 remained in surplus, bringing the surplus account, as of April 30, to $202,400.

Foshay Utility Profits Show Gain for Year

Gross earnings of Public Utilities Consolidated Corporation for the twelve months ended February 28, last, increased $98,000, or 4.28 per cent, on a total gross of $2,419,941, according to a statement released yesterday. The net income available for interest, depreciation, amortization and dividends increased 8.35 per cent over corresponding period last year. In the fiscal year ended February 28, 1928, the net income available for interest, depreciation, amortization and dividends increased 5.63 per cent on a total net of $415,287.

During February, the gross earnings showed an increase of $18,978.51, or 3.84 per cent over the same month last year, while the net income available for interest, depreciation, amortization and dividends increased $4,976.34, or 2.77 per cent on a total net of $74,004.48. The corporation, which is a Foshay utility operating concern, owns and operates utilities that extend from Alaska to Central America and from coast to coast.

Tone Irregular on London Mart

LONDON, May 15. (Exclusive)—Trading on the local stock exchange was quiet with price movements irregular today. Talking-machine records recovered with Columbia Graphophone and radio shares higher. Tobacco was quiet and agricultural prices steady.

British Calson was firm and textiles lower. Fine cotton spinners were weak on the report showing smaller profits and a reduced dividend. Wireless securities were easier and International Nickel harder. Oil was quiet, and mines dull. Rubbers were firm and Ford Motors, Ltd., held around 22 1/2-1/4.

The gilt-edged division had a quiet tone. Home and Argentine rails were quiet. Antofagasta were lower on the disappointing dividend declaration. Foreign securities were steady.

HAHN STORES REPORT ON YEAR OPERATIONS

NEW YORK, May 15. (Exclusive) Hahn Department Stores reported today net income for the twelve months ended January 31, last, of $4,033,489 after all charges, equal after preferred dividends to $3.29 a share on the common stock outstanding, and authorized for issue in connection with the purchase subsequent to the original group.

COPPER COMPANIES IN CURTAILMENT PLAN

NEW YORK, May 15. (Exclusive) Production of the Anaconda Copper Mining Company, the Chile Copper Company and the Andes Copper Company will be curtailed 10 per cent, it was announced today. It is understood that this program will reduce their combined output about 80,000,000 pounds per annum.

PHOTOPHONE PRICES ON EQUIPMENT CUT

NEW YORK, May 15. (Exclusive) R.C.A. Photophone, Inc., subsidiary of Radio Corporation of America, effective at once has reduced prices between $1800 and $2000 on sound equipment for theaters of from 750 to 800 seats.

SHIP LINE TAKING TO AIR

Joseph P. Grace of Steamship Company Mooting
Spirit on Pan-American Airways

NEW YORK, May 15. (Exclusive) Joseph P. Grace, a statesman of the economic world whose country is the western hemisphere, is preparing to make permanent allies out of Neptune and Mercury by extending his combination air-steamship service all the way to Buenos Aires.

Proprietor of twenty-eight liner modes of transportation, he believes, has invariably stimulated traffic in a general way.

The present steamship time from New York to Montevideo is fifteen days. By airplane, starting from Miami, Fla., the journey requires only six days.

Grace Line and Pan-American officials believe that when Mr. MacGregor opens the final lapse of the system to Chile this summer mail schedules can be cut down by a half or more.

Wellington Oil Declares Extra

Directors of the Wellington Oil Company yesterday declared an extra dividend of 1 per cent on the capital stock in addition to the regular quarterly of 5 per cent. The dividends are payable June 15, next, to holders of record the 1st inst.

This is the fourth consecutive extra dividend of 5 per cent, and the second extra for this year, it was stated.

D. A. Nelson, secretary-treasurer of the company, reported to the directors that the Delaney No. 2 well, which was brought in the 1st inst., is producing 430 barrels of oil per day, gravity oil and 4,000 cubic feet of gas daily. The Wellington company holds a 25 per cent interest in this well.

First National Corporation OF PORTLAND

THE First National Corporation of Portland, Oregon, was organized to extend the facilities and service of the First National Bank of Portland—the oldest national bank west of the Rockies.

It is equipped to operate along the lines of an investment trust, particularly interested in pivotal business in the Portland area. Among its first investments the corporation has acquired 25 per cent of the stock of the First National Bank, at prices below the 1928 market.

The Class A Stock which we are offering is preferred as to cumulative dividends of $2 per share, annually, and participates in further earnings after the Class B Stock has received $2 non-cumulative dividends.

We are offering the stock at $48 per share, and shall be glad to furnish detailed circular on request.

5% Equipment Trust Certificates—Series K, 1929
(To be issued under Philadelphia plan)

To be dated May 1, 1929. To mature in annual installments of $1,200,000 each, from May 1, 1930, to May 1, 1944, inclusive.

Bearer certificates in denominations of $1,000 with provision for registration of principal. Principal and semi-annual dividends, May 1 and November 1, payable in New York at the principal office of the Chase National Bank of the City of New York or at the option of the holder at the main office of the Bank of Montreal in the cities of Halifax, Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg or Vancouver.
The Chase National Bank of the City of New York, Trustee

We are advised as follows concerning this issue of certificates:
These certificates are to be issued against new standard railway equipment, the cash contract price of which is not less than $24,112,867. Of this amount not less than 25%, viz.: $6,112,867, is to be paid in cash by the railway company.

Title to the equipment is to be vested in the trustee for the benefit of certificate holders and the equipment is to be leased to the Canadian National Railway Company at rentals sufficient to pay principal, dividend warrants and other charges when due, as specified in the lease.

Payment of the principal of the certificates and the dividends thereon will be unconditionally guaranteed by endorsement upon these certificates by the Canadian National Railway Company. All the stock of Canadian National Railway Company is owned or controlled by the Dominion government.

Under the provisions of the statutes of Canada relating to railway companies, the rentals payable by a railway company under a lease of equipment rank as a working expenditure of the railway company and constitute a claim against the railway company's earnings prior to both principal and interest of all its mortgage debt.

All offerings are made when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to approval of all legal proceedings by our counsel. Delivery in the first instance may be made in the form of interim receipts or temporary certificates.

Woolworth to Increase Stock

NEW YORK, May 15 (Exclusive)—Stockholders of the P. W. Woolworth company today voted the increase in the authorized capital stock from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 and the reduction of the par value of the capital stock from $25 to $10 a share, exchanging two and one-half shares of the new for each share of the old.

H. T. Parsons, president, in his remarks to shareholders, stated that the undistributed surplus at the end of the year was $49,039,278 and prospects are that this will be materially increased, with the undistributed earnings of 1934. Retiring shareholders will be paid.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 15. (U. P.)—Prospects for a renewal of showers or rains in the western and central states, together with a heavy feature in the weekly report of the Weather Bureau, were reflected in rather abrupt trading from an early decline in the cotton market today.

Ordering increased on an advance of 10 to 15 points from yesterday's closing quotations, however, and the mid-afternoon market was quiet with old crop cotton selling at a decline from 10 to 15 points, while the new crop was selling at about yesterday's closing quotations.

TRIO ACQUITTED
IN MURDER CASEAfter Forty Hours Palombo
Verdict ReachedPair Released But Third Held on Gun ChargeAlibi on Gang Slaying Win for Defendants

After forty hours of deliberation a jury of eleven men and one woman yesterday acquitted Mike Pupillo, Domestio De Cio and Vito Ardito of a charge of murder in connection with the shooting last July of August Palombo, alleged bootlegger.

It was reported in the courtroom that while some of the jurors were reluctant during the many hours of deliberation to bring in a verdict freeing the three men, the opinion prevailed from the first among the majority of the jury that the State's evidence was insufficient to substantiate the charge of murder.

ONE OF TRO HELL

Immediately after the verdict of acquittal was recorded De Cio and Ardito were released, but Pupillo remained in custody on a charge of possession of a gun by an alien. He was convicted of this accusation two weeks ago before Superior Judge Wilson and is being held in the County Jail pending the outcome of his appeal.

Pupillo, De Cio and Ardito were accused of having shot Palombo from an armored automobile the night of July 18, 1935, as Palombo was parking his car in the 2500 block on Hillcrest avenue. It was the State's contention that Palombo had been "taken for a ride" in the typical Chicago fashion to remove him as a competitive factor in the Los Angeles bootlegging industry.

ALIBI OFFERED

The three defendants offered alibi that established them as not being present at the scene of the shooting. Pupillo and Ardito claimed to be in their restaurants, while De Cio testified he was entertaining friends at his home. Other witnesses were called to corroborate the testimony of the three defendants.

The case was presented by Dep. Dist. Atty. Clark and Mendel, while the defendants were represented by Attorneys William T. Kendrick, Jr., and William T. Kendrick, Jr.

MORE ROOM SOUGHT FOR MAIL AT HARBOR

More room for handling the mail for the officers and men of the United States Fleet at the harbor is sought by Postmaster C. F. Wright of San Pedro in a communication to the Harbor Commission yesterday. The Postoffice Department at present uses Rooms 27 and 28 in the immigration station owned by the city on the main channel at the foot of Twenty-second street for the shipment of mail between the shore and the fleet.

The Postoffice Department's lease expires June 15 and renewal of the lease for another year is sought. Wright asks for additional space because of the heavy increase in mail. The communication was referred to General Manager Edwards for investigation and report.

AIR COUNTRY CLUB TO BE
LUNCH TOPICAngelenos Will Hear Plan
Today for Organization of Aviation Enthusiasts

Air-minded Angelenos soon are to have a country club of their own—a rendezvous where one with "dizzy" mindlessness can talk allsorts, struts, spins, loops, wingovers, etc., to interested and comprehending listeners. It plans now under consideration by a group of west coast air enthusiasts are realized.

Under the plan being considered, Los Angeles will be the first city of the west coast to become affiliated with the national chain of aviation country clubs now being organized by leaders in the aeronautical field. Details of the plan are to be outlined today to a group of business, social and professional men and women of the city at a luncheon to be given at the California Club by William O. McAdoo, Sr.

Miss Ruth Nichols, aviatrix of New York, in whose honor the luncheon is being given, will be the principal speaker and will outline the methods under which the clubs are being organized.

Each club will have its own flying field, service and repair depot, and a "club" in character. A school of aviation for members will be operated at cost as likewise will a fleet of planes be available to members at a rental cost basis, Miss Nichols said.

Accompanying Miss Nichols on her national tour are Robb C. Corral, business representative of the Aviation Clubs, Inc.; C. C. Bedford, Curtiss representative, and Charles Taylor, vice-president of the Command-Air Manufacturing Company of Little Rock, Ark., all of whom flew here from Dallas, Tex., last week.

Farm Editors
Touring West
Visit Studios

First-hand information on motion-picture production was given members of the visiting American Agricultural Editors' Association yesterday on a tour of Hollywood studios.

The farm journal editors and their wives were guests of the agricultural division of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce last night at a dinner in the Pacific Coast Club as a climax to a program arranged by the chamber during the editors' three-day visit here.

Today the editors plan to visit friends and points of interest in Los Angeles before they leave tonight for Bakersfield on route to St. Louis, on their three weeks' tour of the West.

DICKENS GROUP TO LIVE

Charles Dickens program will be given at the Los Angeles Public Library today at 8 p.m. by Perry Challenger, screen and stage actor. He will present "David Copperfield and the Friendly Walter," "Betsy Trotter and the Camp Tea Party," "Dickens and the Mystery" and impersonations of other Dickens characters.

Scion of Wealthy Holland Family Elopes With Texas Girl and Locates in Los Angeles

To newly acquired friends in Los Angeles they were content to be known as Mr. and Mrs. Stephan Thyssen, a happily married young couple. In Corpus Christi, Tex., probably all that is known is that about three weeks ago one of the town's prettiest girls eloped and was married to a young foreigner. However, there is more to it than that, it was learned yesterday.

The young bridegroom is Baron Stephan Thyssen-Normandine of Holland, 21 years of age, and the bride is one of the wealthiest families in the little monarchy, the nephew of Fritz Thyssen, chairman of the board of directors of the German steel trust, and grandson of the late August Thyssen, one of Germany's most outstanding industrialists during his lifetime.

any at ports of entry into the United States and inspection immediately should be established at un-protected ports. Secretary of Agriculture Hyde is called on to procure funds for this purpose at maritime and border ports and points of entry.

All interested industries and officials, agricultural agencies in the Western States are called on to provide moral and financial backing for preventive programs.

ANOTHER APPEAL

The Federal government is urged to direct the Department of Agriculture to use all necessary funds for an extermination and prevention program and it is urged to provide money to indemnify growers suffering losses through the program.

An educational campaign against the pest is advocated for service clubs, women's clubs and others to be assisted by the State Department of Agriculture, University of California and California Development Association.

Penal enforcement against violators of protective provisions are urged and public support for punishment is sought.

Accumulation of scientific information regarding the fly and its hosts is suggested, with particular reference to the places where it should be watched for and guarded against most.

The California Farm Bureau Federation, California State Grange and California Farmers' Union are called on to agitate their national organizations against the fly and to urge co-operation with eradication and preventive programs.

Transportation agencies, including railroad, automobile and airplane lines are urged to keep a careful lookout for transportation of hosts to the fly.

LAND SOUGHT FOR WATER SUPPLY UNIT

A request of the Water and Power Department for use of five parcels of land in Terminal Island for the construction of an extensive water supply unit for the use of the group of fish canneries located at Fish Harbor was referred by the General Manager Edwards for investigation and a recommendation. The Water and Power Department proposes to sink a number of wells and construct two 5,000,000-gallon elevated tanks, a booster plant, salt-water gallery and a pump in the district south of Dock street and west of the Long Beach boundary on Terminal Island.

POWER BONDS
TO FACE FIGHTFacts on Proposed Issue

Sum Will be NeededArguments in Favor of and Against Vote Request

the program as above enumerated are wasteful and unnecessary, at least for the present. They declare that the two new power plants in the Owens Valley and the transmission line to Los Angeles will entail a greater annual carrying cost than would be required to buy the same output of electrical current from the Southern California Edison Company, from which the city now already buys current to the extent of about $3,000,000 a year. H. A. Van Norman, general manager of the city's power and water department, denies this, and says that at the present rate the city is paying the Edison company the rate of $100 per kilowatt hour, while it will save about $60,000 a year, after carrying costs of the new plants and transmission line are deducted, over the cost of buying power from Edison. A letter of impregnance was received from the city's power and water department, which says that if plans now under way to obtain a 2-mill reduction in the rate of $100 per kilowatt hour, the $300,000 margin of prospective profit will be wiped out an about $50,000, but declares that this will be a net gain to the city's capital investment.

SAYS LINE IS NEEDED

However, Mr. Van Norman's chief argument in favor of this part of the program is that the city must have a transmission line to the Owens Valley by which power can be carried from the city to the valley to develop the power potential to keep the Aqueduct supplied in times of low water. The power now available in the valley comes from Aqueduct plants and is insufficient for pumping operations when there is a scarcity of water. Of the total of $4,400,000 estimated cost, he says that only about $300,000 will go to build the two plants and the rest will be expended for the transmission line.

It is urged against the plan to build these new plants that recent advances in methods of steam generation of power make it probable that hydroelectric generation may soon become obsolete and that, in any event, the coming of Colorado River power from Boulder Dam is from seven to ten years will make these plants unnecessary. Both of which contentions Mr. Van Norman denies, quoting figures to show that steam generation of power is likely to increase rather than decrease in cost as fuel becomes scarcer, and adding that the city will always need Owens Valley water and power and facilities for getting it.

The plan to build a new $3,000,000 reservoir above Power Plants 1 and 2, so that these plants will never have to shut down for lack of water, is attacked on the ground that the Edison company stands ready at all times to take over their load at a rate which averaged only $77 1/2 a year for four years, a sum much less than the annual charges on $3,000,000 worth of bonds. To the Edison company, Mr. Van Norman adds, while the city has paid the Edison company only about $46,000 for such emergency service since 1923, nearly all of the charges incurred on one occasion, and that conditions are becoming more and more likely to occur where, if the city plants have to shut down, considerable periods for lack of water, peak charges would run into hundreds of thousands of dollars.

OTHER ITEMS DEBATED

The legal department of the Edison company says that the $2,500,000 sale to be needed to pay for the Edison line in newly annexed territory will actually not be needed for at least three years as it will require time to reach a final adjudication of values in the courts, where the matter now is. To this the city replies that the law requires the city to be ready to put up the cash, as it were, in escrow the moment the superior court makes its award, which is expected soon, though it will not actually be paid over until the final appeal is passed upon.

The Edison Company opposes the projected expenditure of $2,500,000 by the power bureau for a new 110,000-volt transmission line in the southwestern part of the city on the ground that this is a duplication of facilities, paralleling the 220,000-volt line which the Edison is building in the same general area, and serving the same territory, contrary to the agreement between the city and the private company. Mr. Van Norman says that the line is badly needed to connect the present chain of power-distributing stations, not now connected, so that when one source of power fails another can take on the load; that the Edison's high-tension line is served by the district, and hence is hardly being paralleled, and that the city's new line would not serve for the retelling of power except to emergency reasons as described, no current being taken directly from this line.

EX-AIDE COURTS
FAVOR OF FITTSCivil Service Hearing Less
Bitter Than Day BeforeFormer Employee Requests
Charge be WithdrawnDistrict Attorney Discloses
"Clean-up" Cause

The civil-service hearing of the four former deputy district attorneys who protested their dismissal by Dist. Atty. Fitts shortly after he took office, was marked by a milder tone yesterday than featured the opening session the day before.

Not only did the opposing parties refrain from impugning each other's veracity, but a real peace-dove spirit was invoked by Elton Galusha, attorney for the four applicants, Frank Ky, Edgar T. Fee, William B. Heinicke and Thomas Hart, when he asked Fitts "as a personal favor" to withdraw the charges of personal misconduct the District Attorney made yesterday against Ex-Dist. Atty. Fee.

"I voted for you, Mr. Fitts, and I like you personally," Attorney Galusha said, "and at this time I ask you to withdraw the charges you made yesterday against Mr. Fee. Continued insistence on these charges will result only in embarrassment to persons who probably have forgotten the incident, and the resultant penalties. It seems to me, will be all out of proportion to the degree of the offense."

CHARGES STAY IN RECORDS

Fitts asked to consult with Galusha, and after a brief private conference, said he would not attempt to corroborate the charges he made, but would allow them to remain in the record as hearsay evidence only. "Technically, yesterday's session was a continuance of Ex-Dist. Atty. Hart's cross-examination of Fitts, whose direct evidence on the "incompetence, business and inefficiency" of the deputies he dismissed, was given amid shouts of "It's a lie!" at the opening session.

Answers to Hart's questions by Fitts were framed in such a way as to constitute a defense of Fitts' policy in "cleaning out" the office of having college students and inefficient lawyers who couldn't make a living on the outside the only applicants for the civil examination, and tried to get good attorneys to offer their services as deputies, as a public duty."

"I conferred with Judge Haller of the Judicial Council in October," Fitts said. "I told him I was tired of having college students and inefficient lawyers who couldn't make a living on the outside the only applicants for the civil examination, and tried to get good attorneys to offer their services as deputies, as a public duty."

PUBLIC DISGUSTED

"Did you succeed?"

"In a way, but I'm still looking for good and true men, and no deputy in my office is allowed to think he has a cinch on his job."

Fitts said he found he had to let them go, but he was to keep inside the salary budget of his office, and pay the increased salaries he said he felt was necessary to hire competent help.

The public of this county was so disgusted with the conduct of the District Attorney's office before I took office, that I knew it wanted men in office who would be loyal to the people and not to the law."

The District Attorney stated it, reply to another question that he kept a man he hated and let go a man he loved because he was actuated by motives of public service, and not personal attachment.

NEXT SESSION MONDAY

"Just what was your attitude toward me?" Hart asked.

"That was no place in this hearing!" Fitts replied, with some show of irritation. "I refuse to sit here and be heckled for the benefit of my political enemies. I had a detective watch you to see if you played ball with bootleggers, and others, and I am frank to say nothing in your personal conduct was found to justify charges."

Answering another question, Fitts said that his office is the only District Attorney's office in the United States that is maintained on a 100 per cent civil-service basis.

A conference among Chairman of the Civil Service Commission, Deputy Counsel Gross and Assistant Chief Deputy District Attorney Jordan, was convened to hold the next session of the hearing Monday morning at 10 o'clock. There probably will be several more sessions, it is stated.

VISITING EDITOR MADE GRATEFUL BY AUTOIST

To an unidentified Los Angeles motorist a visiting publisher owes a vote of thanks, and he asked The Times yesterday to let it be known. The grateful visitor is John P. Cunningham of Racine, Wis., publisher of the Wisconsin Agriculturist. At president of the American Agricultural Editors' Association he arrived here by bus from Calexico Tuesday night at the head of a delegation of editors touring the West.

He was met at the Hayward Hotel by his brother, E. W. Cunningham, who transferred the visitor to four pieces of hand baggage to the family car and drove off with him for his home in Glendale. At the Dep. Dist. Atty. Aggalar, asked for a decision fixing the murder as one of first-degree on the ground that Kenney's action in shooting his wife was unjustified and premeditated. Defense Attorney Ryan argued for leniency for his client on the theory that the crime was committed in a fit of passion, as the latter had just learned of his wife's infidelity.

In support of his theory Ryan

Figueras-street end of the Second-street tunnel they were attracted by a loud honking behind them. The honker held up one of Mr. Cunningham's bags, an expensive one, containing articles of considerable value.

"I dropped off your running board at Broadway," he shouted, "and I've been chasing you from there. And in the confusion of traffic he became lost to view before Mr. Cunningham could learn his name or thank him."

And that, said the publisher yesterday, "typifies the spirit of Los Angeles hospitality. Whoever that man may be, I'd like him to know that I appreciate his honesty."

had offered evidence tending to show that Kenney's reason had been overcome by the belief that his wife was having an affair with another man.

The court held, however, that the defense showing was not sufficient to warrant the crime being fixed at anything less than first-degree murder carrying a life sentence. Kenney waived time for sentence and Judge Hardy then imposed the life term.

ALMA RUBENS VIOLENT AGAIN

James Joyce, a noted New York specialist, has been in charge for almost a year. Miss Rubens was given a drug cure. Dr. Joyce refused to permit any of the film actress' friends or members of her family to visit her. Four nurses were employed from funds furnished by wealthy friends interested in the actress, although Miss Rubens is said to possess a fortune herself.

At the conclusion of the treatment, Dr. Joyce advised Miss Rubens to leave the hospital and return to her home in Pasadena. She was taken to a large house a few miles north of Pomona, where she was under the care of four nurses and two male guards.

ESCAPES FROM RETREAT
A week after she was taken to the private house she escaped after a battle with the nurses and boarded a bus. She rode for nine miles in the bus and then alighted at a cross roads restaurant three miles north of the Spadra Hospital road. It was there the pursuing nurses found her drinking a bottle of pop.

The next day she was taken to a private sanatorium in Pasadena where she remained until ten days ago. Then she insisted on being taken to the home of her mother on North Wilton Place. Although constantly guarded by a nurse Miss Rubens managed to obtain quantities of morphine. The mother and nurse assert they closely watched friends who called at the home and on many occasions procured pledges from them that they would in no way aid the girl to obtain narcotics.

CLUB PLOT SUSPECTED
Frequently Miss Rubens went out on automobile trips, but always the family insisted that she be accompanied. That Miss Rubens had worked out some clever scheme with narcotic peddlers to have drugs passed to her is the belief of the family and the deputy sheriff.

Miss Rubens will be confined at the psychopathic ward of General Hospital for several days before her case formally is taken before a court. As she still is under the jurisdiction of Judge McCormack's court under a parole order it is likely the proceedings will go before him. It was indicated by the family of Miss Rubens last night that they will ask that she be committed to Patton as soon as her condition warrants.

CLUB WILL HAVE FETE FOR FUNDS

Cosmos Group to Conduct Carnival and Barbecue in Plummer Park June 22

For the purpose of raising funds with which to erect a clubhouse of its own, the Cosmos Club yesterday announced it will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary with a carnival and barbecue at Plummer Park, West Hollywood, June 22. Greek shepherds will barbecue the lamb over Plummer's barbecue range, largest in the world; gypsies will hold forth in secret nooks and tell fortunes; an old-fashioned country store will be conducted by Mrs. Harry W. Michael, and there will be dancing to Herbert's and the Venice ballroom orchestra. The festival will commence at 3 p.m. and last till midnight.

Mrs. Leland Atherton Irish, past-president of the club, will preside at one of the special tables. Another will be reserved for 1000-people patrons, while a third will be sponsored by the West Hollywood Chamber of Commerce for party-presidents of the club who will be guests of honor. Bertram Earle Moore will act as master of ceremonies and introduce the attractions and speakers.

At the last meeting of the West Hollywood Chamber of Commerce the festival was endorsed, whereupon Mrs. Nellie V. Van Slingerland, press chairman and known as the mother of West Hollywood, urged the acquisition of Plummer Park by the city for the purpose of converting it into a public recreation ground.

VETERANS ADVISED TO FILE TAX PLEAS EARLY

Advice to war veterans to file their tax-exemption claims now was issued yesterday by Mrs. Katherine Alcorn, chief exemption deputy of the County Assessor's office. She stated that while veterans have until July 1, next, in which to file their claims, they will avoid much complication by filing before June 15. This is especially true where real estate is involved. Promptness in filing will obviate mistakes, Mrs. Alcorn announced. She added that it is necessary for a veteran to return his exemption claim each year in order to enjoy its privileges. The veterans' exemption bureau is Room 401, Hall of Records.

ACCIDENT LIST SHOWS DECLINE

Fewer Industrial Mishaps in State Than Year Before

But Safety Conference Hears Gloomy Prediction

Alcohol in Human Radiator Scored by Speaker

A reduction of more than 10 per cent in industrial accidents was achieved during 1938, notwithstanding the St. Francis Dam disaster which increased the total number of 1937 by forty. This was the statement made by William J. French, chairman of the California Accident Commission, in his address to the sixth annual Pacific Coast Safety Conference at the Alexandria, where a three-day meeting opened yesterday afternoon.

"It was the reverse of comforting to have a report at the governor's council meeting recently that 2000 Californians will lose their lives in traffic accidents this year," the speaker said. "Safety never will reign supreme, but it can be made of first importance when we determine to control the conditions under which we live."

"Accidents should be news because they are so rare; on the contrary, they are so common that only minor publicity is given them. Causes of accidents should be determined. Safety schools for superintendents, foremen and mechanics are of special value. Universities should give a leading place to safety instruction, especially in engineering courses."

"Alcohol as a beverage has no place in human radiators. The National Safety Council has started a division of industrial health and its purpose is to war upon poor ventilation, humidity, worry, occupational diseases and to promote 'good health,'" the speaker concluded.

Discussion followed a playlet introduced by William A. Wilson, personnel manager. The playlet was given to entertain and an informal reception. R. M. Wood of the Standard Oil Company of California and president of the California Safety Society, presided.

ONE KILLED, THREE HURT IN TRAFFIC

Driver Held When Auto Causes Death of Girl and Man May Die of Injuries

One girl is dead and three persons are in critical conditions as the result of a traffic accident yesterday. The dead girl is Lorena Duran, 17 years of age, 1331 Henry street, who, with her sister Carmen, 19, were run down by an automobile at San Pablo avenue and Valley Boulevard last night.

Lorena was killed instantly and Carmen was taken to the hospital. The driver of the car is Edgar Croughan, 400 East 10th street, who was taken into custody by the Lincoln Heights police and charged with suspicion of manslaughter. He asserted the girls stepped in front of his machine as he was turning a corner.

M. J. Shipman, 40 of 235 East 10th street, was taken to the hospital and is believed to have been injured fatally in the automobile accident at the corner of Seventy-ninth street and Broadway last night.

Shipman was struck by a car driven by F. Doering of 315 East Ninety-third street, when he attempted to cross the street at the intersection. At the Georgia-street receiving hospital, where the injured man was rushed following the accident, it is said that he is suffering from a broken back, skull fractures and possibly internal injuries. Little hope for his recovery is held out by Police Surgeon Arnold E. Severin, who attended him.

Police officials investigating the case held the accident to have been unavoidable.

F. Valencia, 38, was injured seriously, and his wife, Joie, sustaining minor cuts and bruises, when the car in which they were riding collided with another automobile at Tuljunga avenue and Victory Boulevard yesterday.

Following the collision, W. A. Baughman, driver of the other car, was held on a charge of reckless driving by Officers Kemp and Bone of the valley division police.

Mr. Valencia's condition is pronounced critical at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital, where the injured couple were taken after the accident.

Three Named in Tax Liens

Income-tax liens were filed yesterday against three persons and one company for additional income taxes.

The list included Valentine Productions, 7311 Santa Monica Boulevard, $4000.23 additional taxes for 1938; Lloyd Hamilton, 1924 and 1925, $4305.21; Mildred Berman, no year mentioned, additional taxes, $51,707.27; Antonio Farmaglini, additional taxes for four years, totaling $70,535.28.

DRY PLEDGE CAMPAIGN ANNOUNCED BY W.C.T.U.

Plans for the circulation by the Women's Christian Temperance Union of a youths' prohibition pledge yesterday were outlined by Mrs. Hattie C. Young, State recording secretary, before the annual Los Angeles county meeting of the Law Enforcement Institute, held at the Public Institute under the auspices of the local federation of the organization.

Mrs. Young said it will be the aim of the union to obtain by 1932 the signature of 1,000,000 persons from 14 to 30 years of age, on a pledge of abstinence to support the Eighteenth Amendment. The petition drive, she said, will be sent to President Hoover.

The speaker of the day was Mrs. Eva C. Wheeler, State president, She

AWARD PLEASES PUBLISHER

Bobbs-Merrill Company's Head Delighted at News of Julia Peterkin's Pulitzer Triumph

Glorious news to John J. Curtis, president of the Bobbs-Merrill Company of Indianapolis, was the announcement that Julia Peterkin's "Scarlet Sister Mary" has won the Pulitzer prize award. This he admitted in his Hollywood home last night when discussing the work of Mrs. Peterkin, whose first novel his company published.

The prize was awarded through Columbia University, and is a part of the late Joseph Pulitzer's endowment for the School of Journalism there. There are awards for plays, history, editorial articles, books of verse as well as for the outstanding novel of the year.

"This is the first time it has come to one of our writers," he said, "and naturally I am proud of this distinguished recognition. I've been with the Bobbs-Merrill Company since 1914, and it is experience of this character that rewards the publisher."

HER THIRD BOOK
"Scarlet Sister Mary" is the third book from Mrs. Peterkin. She made her first appearance with "Green Thursday," a group of South Carolina stories. This was brought out in 1924. We followed it with "Black April," another story of plantation life in the South of the Carolinas.

This Pulitzer prize is awarded for the American novel published during the year which shall best present the wholesome atmosphere of American life and the highest standard of American manners and mores. It carries a cash award of $1000.

Julia Peterkin's son was 30 years of age when she published "Black April," which was a South Carolina plantation for nearly a quarter of a century when she turned to the writing craft.

"She insists that she is not a writer," that she is a mother, a housekeeper. But the public has accepted her in the role of author and has set the seal of its approval on her work. Now a further recognition of her gift has come to her, and we are happy to have had that part in it which belongs to the publishers of successful books."

HER BUSY MAN
Mr. Curtis, senior member of the publishing house which has been printing books for nearly a century, wore the pleased smile of one whose judgment has been confirmed. The walls of his pleasant Hollywood studio, which occupies the lower floor of his hillside home on Vista street, are lined with shelves of books. They reach from floor to ceiling, and about the room are piles of eagerly jockeyed volumes from the presses in Indianapolis.

It is rather more of a workshop than a studio, that room. The desk is piled with manuscripts relating to the four great activities of the Bobbs-Merrill Company: The publishing of law books, textbooks and novels, and the conduct of a newspaper syndicate.

John Jay Curtis is a courtly, kindly gentleman. He has a jolly twinkle in his eye, and carries his sixty-five years as easily as a college junior. He loves his work but he knows how to play and always there is Mose, his golden Persian, clawing at the studio's screen door and demanding his master's attention.

PROSPERITY CREDITED TO ADVERTISING

Speaker Tells City Club Los Angeles Has Grown Because It "Told World"

Declaring that the prosperity of the people of the United States is founded on advertising, H. C. Drum of the Smith & Ferris Advertising Agency in an address at the City Club yesterday told his audience that success is the result of the production and profitable sale of a valued commodity.

"The mere production and possession of things worth while do not spell success," said Mr. Drum. "It is the distribution of your commodity that counts, and this can be accomplished best by telling the world about the things you have to sell. The most successful business concerns are those that advertise their products, while those that do not advertise almost invariably are failures."

"Los Angeles is one of the best-advertised communities in the world. The result has been that Los Angeles has been able to attract to any city in history. Without the advertising campaigns the walnut, orange and other industries of California probably would have died instead of having become the great source of revenue they are today."

OFFICERS TO BE ELECTED
Officers of the Sales Managers' Association will be elected, at the next meeting of the organization at the Mary Louise, the 21st inst. at 6:15 p.m. Following the balloting there will be a talk on "Crashing Speed and Flying Speed" by G. A. Gummere and a round-table discussion on "How Do You Get Salesmen Out of a Slump," led by Les Roscoe.

Preceding the session the State officials include Mrs. Claude Warren of Santa Ana, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Neva Thomas, president of the Hollywood W.C.T.U.; and Mrs. E. B. Shuler, former State treasurer, were guests of the City Federation at a noonday luncheon.

CONTINUING PROSPERITY

That prosperity can continue indefinitely, and will do so if the forces which maintain the present delicate balance between production and consumption can be more completely discovered and better controlled is the conclusion of the Committee on Recent Economic Changes of the President's Conference on Unemployment. Stated baldly, this has an appearance of repeating the obvious: the crux of the report really is the committee's additional conclusion that this discovery can be made and the forces applied. Indeed, the committee feels sure that it has made useful discoveries along this line already, though equally sure that the complete procedure of balance maintenance cannot yet be formulated.

Upon this point the committee says: "The forces that bear upon our economic relationships have always been sensitive. All parts of our economy, from the prime processes of making and of marketing to the facilitating functions of finance, are and have been interdependent and easily affected. And there lies the danger: That through ignorance of economic principles, or through selfish greed, or inadequate leadership, the steady balance will be disturbed, to our economic detriment."

"If natural resources, especially the land, are wastefully used; if money in quantity is taken out of production and employed for speculation; if any group develops a method of artificial price advancement which puts one commodity out of balance with other commodities; if either management or labor disregards the common interest in the maintenance of equilibrium, the balance will be destroyed, and destroyed for all."

"Our complex and intricate economic machine can produce, but to keep it producing continuously, it must be maintained in balance. During the past few years equilibrium has been fairly well maintained. We have not wasted the hours of labor for strikes or lockouts. Until recently we have not diverted savings from productive business to speculation."

"Informed leadership is vital to the maintenance of equilibrium. Through incessant observation and adjustment of our economy, we can learn to maintain the economic balance."

This generation has not, the committee finds, made any new economic discoveries. The changes that have taken place in industry have not been fundamental; they have been "in speed and spread."

"Invention," said the committee, "is not a new art. Transportation and communication are not new services. The facilitating function of finance is older than copper currency. Agriculture is as ancient as history. Competition is not a new phenomenon. None of the changes in distribution on which emphasis has been laid in the past few years is basically new. Hand-to-mouth buying is old; sudden changes in style and demand are familiar; there is no new principle in installment selling; co-operative marketing is no modern discovery; the chain-store movement dates back at least twenty-five years. But the breadth and scale and tempo of recent developments give them new importance."

Development of the use of power in industry, three and three-quarter times faster than the growth of population, development of economy in the use of credit, and development of service industries which have, in large measure, absorbed unemployment due to technological improvement, are the principal factors which have steadied business, prevented serious crises, and given rise to a widespread increase in standards of living, the committee finds.

Property is not fortuitous or accidental, then, but due to the operation of definite laws, and for its maintenance we need their full discovery and application. That is the most optimistic conclusion the committee reaches.

By implication, the report fully justifies the open-shop movement of the National Association of Manufacturers and the methods of control of Federal Reserve banks, and its efforts to curb speculation.

ADVERTISING ACHIEVEMENT

Advertising Achievement Week is being celebrated, with luncheons, speeches and the printed word, during the current seven-day period. Advertising achievement is to be known that it would be unnecessary to demonstrate it, and the advertising itself, the facts have to be repeated at frequent intervals so that they will be kept in mind. Advertising needs advertising and is getting it. That is the purpose of the "week."

One of the features of the week is an exhibit at the Biltmore Hotel, where some of the advertising campaigns that have been carried on in Southern California, with statistical proof of their beneficial results, sufficient to convince the most doubting that advertising, and particularly newspaper advertising, is a necessity to any well-conducted and profitable business.

This fact, so well established as to be indisputable, supplied the theme of an address made at the Advertising Club's luncheon on Tuesday by Harry C. Drum, vice-president of the Smith and Ferris advertising agency. Mr. Drum made an analysis of income tax returns and proved from them that every successful and profitable business in the country is an extensive advertiser, and that of the companies that last year reported a deficit the great majority, in fact nearly all, were non-advertisers.

Advertising as a conspicuous aid to national prosperity was mentioned in the report of the Committee on Recent Economic Changes, which pointed out that its facilitation of distribution is a potent factor in maintaining the balance between the producer and the consumer so that markets may not be glutted with goods that do not move.

FAST FREIGHT

A Japanese tanker spans the 4000 miles of wet ocean between here and Yokohama in sixteen days flat and then scuds back with 70,000 barrels of oil, well-known oil. Thus proving that the Pacific is not as much of a muchness, even for our freighters. When tankers are doing better than 300 miles a day they are churning the briny.

LEE SIDE O' LA

by Lee Shippey

IT WAS our painful duty to punish Frank, 3 1/2 years old and No. 4 of our 20-mule-team quartet of boys. He had been very, very wicked and we sternly denied him his Saturday afternoon treat. But he was not greatly depressed. He bounced up and started for the door gleefully. "I'll go ask the nice lady on the corner for a dime," he chanted, as he vanished.

We sped after him and dragged him back. We assured him it was awfully naughty for little boys to ask anyone except their own parents for money, or accept any money whatever from other people. "Then you give it to me," was his answer.

If you think it is easy to get that point of honor straight in a small boy's mind just try.

Why Kids Leave Home

We wouldn't mention this, but our lot is the common lot of nearly all parents in Southern California who are asked to maintain standing armies of servants, guards, tutors, play leaders, etc., to try to keep their children out of mischief part of the time. Southern California is a paradise for children, and there are great numbers of them here. It also is a happy breeding ground for insuperable health faddists, any one of whom would have more fun in a mile than all the trade-up-and-downs firms in town can give in a week if any stranger would give their children a dime which might be spent on candy apples. And yet our wishes have been that all they have to do is to go down and stand looking hungrily in the windows of Johnson's candy store (after first getting good and dirty, and tearing their clothes so as to look like poor street gamins) and some beaming stranger is sure to come along and hand them some with which to go in and buy lollipops.

And so they are growing up to believe there's an all-day sucker for them every minute.

A Toasted Pie

So, in behalf of all the parents and all the children in Southern California, we plead with all you folk who are asked to provide thoughtful meals to make no presents to children.

HONORS TO JOAN OF ARC

In a series of elaborate pageants and other festivities France is celebrating the five hundredth anniversary of the "call" of Joan of Arc. This historic call, she believed, was made by voices which bade her become the savior of her country. Although it probably was something but the dream of a girl deeply affected by the work of her countrymen under the British yoke, the message was believed in by many of them, and when she appeared in male dress, bearing a sword and sacred banner, they rallied to her standard and hastened to the deliverance of Orleans which was being besieged by the British.

By bold sallies she and the 10,000 troopers under her forced the enemies of France from their trenches and they abandoned the siege. Joan's hot charges upon the English resulted in success after success, and when Charles VII entered Rheims in triumph and was anointed and crowned Joan stood at his side and shared the honors of the day with him.

As Orleans something of the color and romance of the famous day 500 years ago, when Joan put the British to rout, was seen in a celebration watched by 100,000 people. The gold banners of Orleans and the blue-and-white pennants of the famous Maid were seen in the anniversary decorations. In a great torchlight parade a 1929 Joan rode through the streets accompanied by nobles, pikemen, archers and halberdiers. There were seven cardinals, seven archbishops and forty-four bishops participating in the religious ceremonies in the great cathedral of Orleans.

History is full of strange twists, but none quite so strange as those seen in the career of the Maid of Orleans, who at the beginning of her campaign, after telling of the voices that had inspired her, was regarded as insane, then accepted as the leader of the avenging host, hailed as conqueror and two years later put to death as a heretic and sorceress, being burned at the stake and her ashes thrown into the Seine. Today she is the patron saint of France, the symbol of French nationalism, and honored as a woman loyal to the church and to her monarch.

One may search history long and carefully and not find a character so honored, so hated, so misinterpreted and in the end so loved and venerated as this simple peasant maid, who, though she saved France, did not in her lifetime gain a tenth of the glory that today surrounds a name breathed with deep reverence by all Frenchmen.

MEDICAL NOTE

If all people had perfect teeth, there would be a great deal less rest talked and a great deal less of those gloomy tomfool letters in the press about England and America, says Premier Baldwin. We could make some dental recommendations of benefit to the country.

The Case for the Mothers

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—(To the Editor of The Times) The response which has come in answer to a letter which I wrote relative to home work for children convinces me that the great majority of mothers feel as I do on this subject. In view of the fact that cooperation between the school and home is absolutely necessary the voice of the mothers must be regarded and respected in this matter.

Home work should be eliminated entirely. The school has now so invaded the home that there is no home life left. I work to support my two children and provide a proper home for them. I need them to school each day rested, properly fed and clothed. I pay heavy taxes to help support the schools and when evening time comes I coach two tired, sleepy children in home work.

The school hours are long enough to accomplish necessary school work. The school cannot adjust their hours so as to complete the purpose of their existence. My children leave home at 7:30 a.m. and return at 4 p.m. Institutions which cannot adjust their schedule of work to given hours are like people who cannot live within their income, no matter how large.

The all-important fact of this home-work question lies not in whether children can do more or less study, but in the fact that there is a time and place for everything and evening hours are not the time for children to study.

I often wake my little girl up when her head has fallen over her book and send her off to bed. She belongs while I finish the lesson. It would be of great benefit to my boy in after life to receive conversational lessons in Spanish one evening a week, but this is out of the question on account of home work. Other children are forced to give up music and dancing lessons. Many young boys are required to take paper routes and outside work to help pay for their clothes or provide their spending money. In one family I know, where the father has a radio for his hobby, it cannot be turned on during the evening hours, when the best programs are on, because the children must study. In a small bungalow there are no quiet rooms when a radio is going in the house. The short home hours belong to the family for relaxation to play, sing, laugh and rest.

New One on Him

Speaking of kiddies, a Hollywood woman was trying to impress a tourist friend from "back home." Her 8-year-old came bounding in while the guest was there.

"Where's my ball, mama?" "Why, in the nursery, dear." The little boy hesitated. Then, shyly: "Yes, mama. But where's the nursery?"

LEN SHARKS ARE HIT

By its decision in the Hillier case, the State Supreme Court has struck a blow at tax and assessment len sharks which will put new steam into the war against them. The attempt to deprive Dr. E. P. Hillier of a lot worth $20,000 because of his failure to pay an assessment of tax of which he had received notice involved such obvious injustice that the court would have been morally required to strain the law in his favor. If such straining had been necessary. Unfortunately, it is probable that some hundreds of people have been deprived of property with no greater justice, merely because they lacked the knowledge or the ability to fight for their rights or were unable to do so because of lack of means.

The Hillier case, therefore, deserves to have wide attention called to it, so that others in similar situations may know that there is a remedy for them. But matters will never be mended permanently until the Legislature overhauls and simplifies the tax and assessment laws that, at least, all taxes and assessments will be collected at the same place and on the same bill.

ESSAY ON WOLVES AND RABBITS

By James J. Montague

The wolf is very fierce and wild. The rabbit is extremely mild. The wolf is large and strong and hale. The rabbit is but weak and frail. The wolf picks quarrels, and loves to fight. The rabbit will not even bite. Both do the same degree of harm. What time they roam around the farm. The wolf devours the sucking calf. The rabbit chews the beets in half. The farmer holds them fair game. Foxes and chivies both the same. But wolves are dying from the land. While multiplies the rabbit band. And in the future still will thrive. When not a wolf is left alive. Perhaps the reason is, you ween, Because the wolf is base and mean. The rabbit being quite devoid Of any rancor or sang froid. But there, dear friend, you have it wrong. The rabbit's destined to live long. Because in this terrestrial vale The prudent cottontail prevail. And he who always runs away Will live to run another day. (Copyright, 1935, by the Red Grizzlies, Inc.)

THE G.O.P. BIRTHDAY

BY EDWARD C. KRAUSS

At Friendship, N. Y., a little town in the Genesee Valley, is being celebrated today what is called, there, the birthday of the Republican party. While the party itself usually considers the convention at Jackson, Mich., on July 17, the moment of its genesis, there appears some cause for Friendship's claim to the first Republican convention ever conducted anywhere.

According to the traditions of Friendship, A. N. Cole, editor of the Genesee Valley Free Press, was the organizer of this convention, which adopted a name for the party suggested by Horace Greeley at Cole's request.

No contemporary account of this first convention is known to exist. The date of Cole's birth, which the call for it is said to have been printed, together with Greeley's letter, were destroyed in a fire in 1897, but Cole told of it in a letter published in 1924 and his claim has been credited by the Genesee Valley American.

Cole was a Free Soiler who said that the Whigs had disintegrated, that some of the parties that sought to take up opposition to an apparently triumphant democracy was based on broad enough principles to be a national in scope, and that a new party which should bring together the northern Whigs and the Free Soilers was needed. Cole set these views forth in his paper and called a meeting for May 16, 1854.

Cole related that his son, the editor of the Free Press, had made his way to Friendship at the time set, arriving about dusk, found the hall dark, and was about to go away discouraged when he saw a small group who had come out for the meeting. The group named a committee composed of Cole, C. M. Allen, Robert Snow, Z. B. Benjamin and Joseph D. Shurtz, with instructions to organize the community and to call a national convention in the following October.

Cole was a profuse letter writer, and in correspondence with many leading men of his time, and it seems plausible enough to assume that he spread the idea widely and aided greatly, if he did not actually start, a movement for which the nation was ripe. Certainly the Republican party was unknown in 1854, and just as certainly had 108 Congressmen and 100 Senators in the Congress of 1855, polled 114 votes for Fremont in 1856 and elected Lincoln in 1860.

At any rate, Friendship is celebrating today.

WHERE CAN I LEARN Beauty Culture?

By LOUISE L. TEMPLE

(Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered by the schools. Address, Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.)

Beauty culture is taught in almost every public evening school, but it is called "personal hygiene." This name is given because this subject is stressed in every phase of the work. The course is so popular that most of the classes are overcrowded and have a long waiting list. The Los Angeles Jefferson Evening High School, however, has a thirty-eighth street and Compton avenue, has sufficient equipment to accommodate about ten more pupils. There is no charge of any kind for the instruction. Those who wish to go into this work as a trade, are required by law to spend 1000 hours in practice work under an experienced operator. They are given a great deal of home study in order to pass the State examination for a license. By attending classes regularly, ambitious women may however, two hours every school night, from 7 to 9. This will advance their goal even further. It is possible to obtain a license through the instruction study over the course of several years.

For those who wish just enough knowledge for home use, one term of nine months, including two evenings a week, will be sufficient. The beginning class meets Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and the advanced class meets Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings. All classes are from 7 to 9. The instructor is Mrs. Marie M. Ralston, who has had trade experience with the J. W. Robinson Hair Dressing College, Frederickson's, and Weaver Jackson's.

NEW YORK'S GREATEST SPAN

Even in an era when engineers seem to have come into their own, and from all sorts of positions of influence, even from the White House, are leading public opinion, the proportions of the proposed Hudson River toll bridge are not to be higher. The necessity for providing headway for the traffic in the Hudson River has led the engineers to insist upon a bridge the center of the bridge of 175 feet above the water, which is forty feet above the level of the Hudson River. The main span will be 175 feet in length from bank to bank of the stream, while the side spans are 125 feet each. But it is in carrying capacity that the bridge seems to be wholly without a rival. It is to be of two decks, the upper one for automobiles, and the lower one for trucks, and will be able to carry 10,000 tons of traffic. The bridge is estimated to cost $100,000,000. (Christian Science Monitor.)

According to the movie comedies, most colored boys are ragged, irresponsible young fellows. A recent survey shows that there are now 618 troops of negro Boy Scouts in America, with an enrollment of 12,000 boys. W. B. J.

SAL SELECTS FIGHT AIDES

Challenger Picks Seconds for Title Battle

Leabo, Oleva and White to Handle Mexican

Morgan Resumes Hard Work After Day's Rest

BY KAY OWEN

SAN BERNARDINO, May 15.—Baby Sal Sorio, challenger for Ted Morgan's junior lightweight championship, today announced his seconds for next Monday night.

"They ain't going to be no trills about us," says the edgy little Mexican. "And they ain't going to be no strangers. Just my own—just my own."

"I can win by a knockout and that's how I'm going to win. Reports that some outsiders would be trying to tell me how to fight that night are dead wrong."

"My boy chum, Freddy Chavez, there is one of them. We've been together for sixteen years. We've been through some tough fights together as kids and we're going to be together for a long time yet."

"Another second will be Crafton Leabo, my manager. We have been together since I was 11 years of age. The third man is Bob White, my trainer. He used to match me, and I used to knock out a lot of kids for him."

This is the first hint of just who would handle the Mexican puncher in his battle for a title. It sets at rest reports that the Mexican brothers would try to put the youngster "over the top."

Loyalty rules the heart of the little "dobe" fighter. Getting a shot at a championship, which means honor and riches, hasn't moved any of his brain cells around in his head so as to make it any bigger.

Baby Sal and his chum, Freddy, have other shaves besides the fight business. Leabo makes them wash their own dishes. It's still the same. He for them—once a boy who tomorrow may have earned the goal of every fighter—the championship laurels.

"Hey, you fellows," said Leabo as he observed the table in the camp-house littered with the aftermath of a healthy dinner, "get busy and wash these dishes, both of you."

Sal and his chum looked sheepish, but promised to clean up the place after the trip to the gymnasium.

Sal will box today and tomorrow with Billy DePoe and Cleckle Herman. Saturday he may or may not go to the gymnasium. This depends on his work.

The Mexican weighed 132 pounds yesterday. He wants to hit 130 by his final workout and then depend on trying out the last two days.

MORGAN RESUMES HEAVY TRAINING

SAN BERNARDINO, May 15.—Ted Morgan resumed training yesterday at the San Bernardino ranch following a one-day lay-off last Tuesday. Frank Churchill, manager of the champion, said Morgan would work right up to the fight, putting on the final touch-up Saturday.

Morgan appears to be close to the edge and will be watched closely from now on to prevent him losing the form he has now reached. The champion is only once above the title weight right now.

In his workouts Morgan has continued to show the tendency to fight his sparring partners instead of box them as many believe he will do in the ring next Monday with Baby Sal Sorio.

Morgan is working with Charley Sullivan and Art Molina. The latter is a Mexican of the same-breed type.

MANY MEETS SCHEDULED

Junior Olympic Contestants to Compete Saturday in County Finals and Preliminaries

BY HEAVEN DYER

What looks as the hottest day of competition in this year's Junior Olympic Games program is billed for Saturday when eleven meets will be held. Three of these are county finals, while the other eight are district preliminaries which will result in winners becoming eligible for finals in their respective counties.

Most of the youngsters entered in ground division will be held at Hawley Field with approximately seventy boys taking part. Some of the playground youngsters have made amazing scores, among them Fernando Ramos of Rose Snyder who did 979 points. This exceeds anything ever done in the Junior Olympics, and stamps Ramos as a likely winner in the finals. He is being coached by Arthur Dietz.

Six district meets will see scores of other boys in action. They are to be held at Van Nuys, Inglewood, Long Beach, Santa Monica, Pasadena and Huntington Park.

Inglewood had several hundred boys in the program last year and the probability is that this number increased during the present season. Virgil Dahl will be in charge of the meet there Saturday.

The first five seniors and first five juniors in each of these district meets, including the playground and South Santa Anita event, will be eligible for the Los Angeles county finals at Moore Field on the 16th inst.

Los Angeles county schools will compete in a district event at South Santa Anita under the supervision of Miss Grace Adams, physical education director for youngsters of the out-of-town schools. These meets will feature athletes from thirty-seven institutions of learning.

Finals in the Los Angeles playground division will be held at Moore Field on the 16th inst.

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

An interesting group of colorful numbers will feature the 7 o'clock evening hour today through KHJ, the Don Lee station. There will be the Minsky-Korshak descriptive composition, "Light of the Bumble Bee," and Howard Griffin, brilliant young violinist, will offer the Correll-Kreiser "Thema and Variations."

Selections from the "Show Boat" and "Red Mill" are scheduled to be featured by the studio singers and orchestra during the 8 o'clock hour, and Dr. Carl Cameron will sing "Barcarolle" from the "Chimes of Normandy."

The 9 o'clock program is being prepared in the form of a surprise, according to Glenn Delbert, station manager.

SHE'S ONLY FEDERAL JURIST OF HER SEX

Judge Genevieve Cline

Legal Ones, Not Feminine Wear, Pass Judge Cline of Customs Court

More than 200 customs cases were disposed of yesterday by Genevieve R. Cline, only woman Federal jurist, during the opening day of the local United States Customs Court.

Judge Cline will continue to hear disputes between the United States and importers until the evening of the 21st inst., when she closes the local court to leave for San Francisco to take the bench in the Customs Court there.

Approximately 100 cases were on the local docket at the close of court yesterday to be disposed of by Judge Cline during her sessions here. The cases for most of them are questions of rates and values.

The local Customs Court is in sessions three times a year, and this is Judge Cline's first assignment to the Pacific Coast district since her appointment to the Federal bench by former President Coolidge. She is one of the eight associate justices of the United States Customs Court with headquarters in New York.

Before receiving her appointment a year ago Judge Cline had served as a United States Customs appraiser. Her earlier appointment was made by the late President Hoover in 1925.

New Aircraft Venture Plans Factory Here

Filing of the articles of incorporation for the White Eagle Aircraft and Motor Corporation, and plans for the building of a plant near Los Angeles for the manufacture of airplanes and airplane motors, was announced yesterday by R. J. Doran, of Cleveland, O. Mr. Doran, formerly an army instructor and also with the engineering department of Curtiss Aeroplane and Motor Co., in vice-president and manager of the new company.

Articles of incorporation call for a capitalization of $1,000,000 in capital stock, which will be issued to the public. Mr. Doran said that the plant site will be acquired within thirty days, and production may be started within sixty days.

Mr. Doran is both the inventor of the motor and the designer of the airplanes the company will build. His motor, he said, is of the rotary valve type, adaptable to any number of cylinders for automobile, airplane or boat. An important feature, he said, is that the motor has only forty-nine parts, as compared with 150 or more in other motors. It can be built as water cooled, or air cooled, according to his statement, and can operate by gas, water, air or steam. The motor has neither sleeves, valves, chains nor gears.

The airplane model will range from monoplane to triplane, using from one to four motors.

A. E. Boyer, of Los Angeles, and Kenneth L. Cleveland, president of the company, and J. W. Wale, secretary and treasurer.

Brookings Rites Set for Today

Funeral rites for John E. Brookings, retired lumber man, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today at the Leroy Bagley mortuary, 5440 Hollywood Boulevard. Burial will follow at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mr. Brookings, who was 62 years of age, came to Los Angeles three years ago from Redlands, where he had resided since 1926. For many years he was president of the Brookings Lumber and Box Company, which operates a chain of nine lumber yards in San Bernardino county.

Before coming to Southern California, he resided at Benton Harbor, Mich.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Emma Brookings, a daughter, Mrs. George Henry of Los Angeles, and a son, Walter Debris Brookings, of the United States Chamber of Commerce, Washington, D. C. The family home is at 7064 Hawthorne avenue.

FILLING CONTRACT LET

A contract for the filling of five acres of land in the outer harbor at San Pedro, where a $200,000 cotton warehouse is to be erected for the Los Angeles Compress and Warehouse Company, yesterday was awarded to Schilling & Schilling, of the law firm of 1472 by the Harbor Board. An application by the company for permission to construct a retaining wall in the rear of Berth 56 at a cost of $2100 was approved.

LASKER RELEASED ON BAIL

Health Condition of Convicted Finance Corporation Officer Gains Freedom on $60,000 Bonds

A. T. Lasker, convicted former head of the Lasker Finance Corporation, yesterday was released from the County Jail following the approval of his $60,000 appeal bonds by Judges Wilson and Shaw of Superior Court. Lasker was being held in the jail since his arrest last week from Superior Court for John J. Lasker, a showing was made that he is suffering from pernicious anemia and further confinement would be detrimental to his health.

Judge Wilson fixed Lasker's bond at $60,000 pending the decision on Lasker's appeal from conviction, while the remaining $10,000 covers an indictment charging bribery returned against Lasker and former Dist. Atty. Keyes in connection with the claims for losses of charges preferred two years ago against the former finance company executive. This latter case is now off calendar pending the outcome of appeals filed by Lasker and Keyes from recent convictions.

According to physicians who examined Lasker, the latter is suffering from a condition that demands rest, sunshine and special diet and it was testified the jail is not in possession of proper facilities for treating his case.

"We've got to sacrifice one thing or the other," they told us. "You can't have clearness and volume and distance, all in the same radio set. You've got to sacrifice something." But Stewart-Warner went ahead with- out trying to do anything that had ever been done before.

We developed an entirely new circuit. A "balanced bridge" circuit using the most powerful tube equipment known to modern radio—LUX-245 power tubes in "push-pull" with five 227 heater type tubes. The result is a set that provides tremendous volume. Without distortion. Without loss of realism of tone. And extreme distance-getting ability. Performance beyond anything you have ever listened to. Beauty that will give you genuine thrill. Modern—even to plug-in connection for Television.

It can't be done. But here it is—the new Stewart-Warner—"The Set for the Future"—the punch that knocks out all former standards of radio performance. The punch that brings you genuine booming in with un- matched realism of tone.

More than a full demonstration of this new set, a real appreciation of this new, years-ahead Stewart-Warner radio. See the Stewart-Warner radio today. Small initial payment. Stewart-Warner is your home.

WORKERS BUSY ON FORD PLANT

Assembly Building Will be Ready Early in 1935

More Than $3,000,000 to be Invested at Harbor

Parts Will be Received from Company's Own Boats

The new Ford assembly plant rising on a forty-acre site opposite Terminal Island, Long Beach and Los Angeles harbors, will represent an investment of more than $3,000,000 for construction and equipment and is expected to be in use early in 1935, according to an announcement from the Ford Motor Company. Before leaving for Europe, Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company, announced the awarding of contracts for the new assembly plant, docks and transfer warehouses.

Intended principally to supply the Ford company's products for Southern California and to some extent the Atlantic coast, the plant, designed by Albert Kahn, Inc., Detroit architects, will have a total floor space in excess of 500,000 square feet. It will be of the latest and most modern Ford-type factory construction, with the latest conveyor and dock equipment and will consist of two units, a single-story assembly plant, 920 by 300 feet, with a single-story office building and a two-story transfer warehouse 440 by 80 feet.

LIGHT AND AIR
All assembly plants built by the Ford Motor Company within the last few years are of the single-story type designed to give a maximum of light and air. It is stated.

The warehouse will be built on the dock in a way that will enable the discharging of cargoes from ships direct to the floors of the building and cranes and specially designed conveyors for loading and unloading of vessels will eliminate all hand-trucking of materials.

Car and truck parts for assembly at the plant will be shipped largely by water, in Ford-owned boats from the company's plants at Kearny, N. J., and Chester, Pa.

CHANNEL DREDGED
Railroad facilities are afforded by the new establishment's location on the line of the Union Pacific.

The company bought the site some time ago. Since this acquisition the property has been filled and a channel dredged to a depth of thirty-two feet. The site is described as split by the boundary line between Los Angeles and Long Beach.

The Ford company's present Southern California plant here is no longer adequate for the company's requirements and will be discontinued when the new plant is completed and occupied.

PARSIMONY CHARGED
Eugene W. Hordan wouldn't give his wife money to buy face powder, she testified in an alimony hearing in Superior Judge Schuchman's court yesterday, and so she had to take in washing to buy the necessities of life. According to Mrs. Hordan's testimony, her husband told her he married her out of sympathy. Judge Schuchman gave Mrs. Hordan $15 a week alimony.

FAITH IN HUMANITY DISCLOSED

Large Sum Mailed in Plain Envelope

Miss Jean McGee

SOMEWHERE in Los Angeles is a man or woman who chooses to remain unknown and who has boundless faith in fellow-human beings.

This faith was justified yesterday when five $100 bills, United States gold certificates, fluttered from a plain envelope into the hands of Miss Jean McGee, secretary to D. O. MacWaters, general manager of the Community Welfare Federation.

A note, written on a small square of soiled white paper, said: "Please accept this donation to help the Community Chest. A friend." The sender neither had taken the precaution to register the letter, nor realized that the person who opened the letter could have pocketed the $500 without any one ever being the wiser.

AIRPORT DEAL AUTHORIZED
Woodruff De Silva, assistant director of airports, was authorized by the City Council yesterday to enter into negotiations with the White Radio Aircraft and Motor Corporation for the leasing of eight acres of the Municipal Airport at Mines Field.

CONVICTION FOR TWO IN EXTORTION

McFarland and Leibes, Accused by Woman, to be Sentenced on Monday

Cecil E. McFarland and Bert Leibes, who are asserted to have obtained $40 from Mrs. Jeanne McCabe, 1028 South Harvard Boulevard, by posing as prohibition officers and threatening to arrest the woman, yesterday were convicted of extortion by a jury in Judge Doran's court.

The jury, which deliberated about thirty minutes in reaching a verdict, acquitted the two men of a charge of grand theft preferred against them in connection with the incident.

According to prosecution testimony, McFarland and Leibes gained entrance to Mrs. McCabe's home, exhibited a badge and told her they would arrest her on a charge of violating the Wright Act unless she paid them $40. She was told to give them $40 at the time and then notified the police, who placed the pair under arrest when they returned for the remaining $10.

McFarland and Leibes will face a penitentiary sentence of from one to five years when they are taken before Judge Doran for sentence on Monday.

CHARITABLE HOME SOON WILL GO UP

Ground for Convalescent Institution to be Broken by Progressive Circle

The proposed Los Angeles Convalescent Home, sponsored by the Progressive Circle, shortly will become a reality, it was announced yesterday by Ben Verschler, chairman, following a meeting at the home of William Silverman, 2088 Edgemont avenue. A five-acre corner tract on Beverly Boulevard, Montebello, has been deeded to the home, and ground, Verschler said, probably will be broken in June.

Plans and specifications are being prepared, and will call for an ultra-modern structure with accommodations for fifty patients. The building and equipment will cost $50,000 and additional units will be erected when the need arises.

The Progressive Circle consists of twenty-four socially prominent women, who evolved the idea of the home after a period of five years' close contact with numerous charities. It is backed by an advisory board of men active in civic and business circles who have pledged their moral and material support to the project, having underwritten a large portion of the costs involved, and pledged themselves to activity in the campaign to raise the balance.

TOO MUCH RELIGION BRINGS WIFE DIVORCE

Thaddeus L. Adams was very religious and had to choose between his church and his wife and family and he chose the church, according to Mrs. Lena E. Adams, who was before Superior Judge Price yesterday seeking a divorce on the grounds of desertion. "He would leave home on many occasions to attend his church services when I was ill and needed medical attention," Mrs. Adams declared. "He wouldn't call a doctor because, he insisted, I could be healed by prayer." A decree was granted. A property settlement made out of court was approved.

PROTESTS DUE TODAY

The City Council is scheduled to hear protests today against the ordinance of intention for the improvement of Stoner avenue between Iowa and Mississippi avenues and Figueroa street between One Hundred and Twentieth and One Hundred and Ninetieth streets, and for the building of sewers in the Buena Vista and Loma-avenue sewer district.

NEW PLANE SERVICE OPENS

Albuquerque Sends Representative Delegation Here Via Western Air Express's Latest Link

Los Angeles and Albuquerque, N. M., were brought together on a six-hour air schedule yesterday with the initial flights on the daily round-trip line of Western Air Express planes.

Aboard the westbound trimotored Fokker which landed here at 6 p. m. yesterday were twelve passengers representing Albuquerque's civic life and its cowboy and Indian population.

Leon Sche-Erya, an Indian maid, and Sturges, Mike Kirk, Indian trader and Navajo interpreter; Edgar Knight, secretary of the Albuquerque Chamber of Commerce; Fred Canfield, secretary of the Albuquerque Realty Board; Ray Morley, wealthy cattleman; Dr. C. C. Davis, president of the Albuquerque Lions Club; J. E. Mathews and C. E. Lemphig, Albuquerque city commissioners; Roy Wall and Maurice Off.

SHRINKER WELCOMED

Lloyd Sturges, potentate of Ballou Airport Shrine of Albuquerque, was met at the Western Air Express depot on Vall Field by Leo Youngworth, Imperial Potentate-elect. Sturges flew here to make arrangements for New Mexico's delegation to the Shrine convention, scheduled to start on June 4, next.

The eastbound passenger ship took off on the new run yesterday morning and made the trip in the scheduled flying time, six hours, arriving at Albuquerque at noon. George Rice was at the controls on the eastern flight. Peyton Rice set down the first ship coming this way.

EXTENSION PLANNED

Plans of Western Air Express call for extending the Albuquerque hop to Kansas City, Mo. At present, the Albuquerque hop is scheduled flying time between Los Angeles and Reno being three hours and thirty minutes each way. Railroad running time for the distance is twenty-two hours. On a trial round trip made Tuesday the circuit was flown in six hours and twenty minutes.

SLASHING SUSPECT IN COURT

Matthew A. Guidera, 32 years of age, was arraigned before Municipal Judge Ambrose yesterday on charges of assault with a deadly weapon and assault with intent to commit murder, growing out of the slaying of Mrs. Mary Sherill, 4729 San Marino street, on the beach at Santa Monica early last Saturday.

on behalf of Eleanor Boardman Vidor, wife of King Vidor, screen actor.

It is charged that Miss Berger handled the income-tax return for Mrs. Vidor, also a screen celebrity, in such a manner that unwarranted deductions were made. The charge, which refers to 1928, asserts that Mrs. Vidor's income that year was $41,526.73, and that a tax of $3,541.93 was due to the government. It is charged that asserted illegal deductions were made so that only $15,007.78 income tax was paid. A further investigation is being conducted.

Three secret indictments were returned by the jury against four persons, each in each case being set at $5,000. An indictment was returned against Sam Wolpert, charging violation of the Dyer Act and against Norman Howell, charging the violation of Sec. No. 213 of the Federal Penal Code.

City and County Asked to Contribute to Fund of $75,000 Being Raised

City and county governments are seeking authorization to contribute to the proposed Flint Memorial Fountain. It was stated yesterday on behalf of the Frank P. Flint Memorial Association. This announcement followed a well-attended meeting at the Biltmore where $10,000 was pledged toward the $75,000 fund sought for erecting a memorial on the south grounds of the City Hall. Representatives of the Board of Supervisors, Board of Public Works, Park Board and legal department attended and gave promise of co-operation.

Joseph Scott, chairman, and James R. Martin, secretary and treasurer of the association, expressed hope that both city and county can contribute. Promise to seek this authorization was given by City Attorney Stephens, Supervisor H. W. Wright, Mr. R. M. Adams, chief counsel of the Water and Power Department, and Arthur Eldridge, Commissioner of Public Works. Gordon B. Kauffman, secretary, exhibited a sketch of the proposed fountain. He said he thinks the total cost need not exceed $50,000. Between 4,000 and 5,000 citizens have been invited to subscribe, no check in excess of $500 being desired, in order to make the list as representative as possible.

Cast Selected for Greek Play at University

Selection of the cast for the twelfth annual Greek drama at the University of California at Los Angeles has been completed. Nearly fifty students having been chosen for the various roles of "Electra," the tragedy of Euripides. Two players have been assigned to several of the leading roles in order to provide alternate players for the three performances, the 23rd, 24th and 25th inst.

Alice Turner has been assigned the role of Electra, daughter of Agamemnon and Clytemnestra. Mona Martin has been chosen as an alternate and probably will play in one of the performances. Jack Finner and Paul McKelvey both are studying the part of Orestes in childhood, and Hale Sparks and Jack Robinson will prepare for the role of the messenger, friend and follower of Orestes.

Others in principal roles will be Sylvia Goldberg as Clytemnestra, queen of Argos and Mycenae, widow of Agamemnon; Freeman Ambrose as Orestes, exiled son of Clytemnestra; Leon Blum as Aegisthus, husband of Electra; Vardry Williams as Pyriades, friend of Orestes; Graeme Crane, Angelina, usurping king of Argos and married to Clytemnestra; William Dublin, as Orestes; Barney Kiser as Polydorus; Ida Sabor, leader of the chorus.

REGIONAL PLANNER LEAVES FOR EAST

Charles H. Diggs, director of the Los Angeles County Regional Planning Commission, will leave this morning for Buffalo and Niagara Falls, where he will attend the twenty-first annual conference on city planning. He will address the conference on the County As a Planning Unit, and an exhibit of the work of the Regional Planning Commission will be on display at Buffalo during the conference.

WELL'S FATE UP TO WILBUR

Report on Milham Producer Sent to Secretary by Investigating Committee Named Here

The future of the Milham Exploration Company's producing well at Kettleman Hills, depends on the contents of a written report winging its way to Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, at Washington, dispatched yesterday by his representative here, Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the United States Geological Survey.

An advisory committee appointed by Dr. Smith, at the suggestion of Secretary Wilbur, submitted the report yesterday. Dr. Smith declined to make public the contents of the written report, explaining that it was addressed to Mr. Wilbur, through him, and that he will await word from him before discussing it.

R. A. Sperry, vice-president of the General Petroleum Corporation and chairman of the advisory committee, declined to comment on the report.

Dr. Smith appointed the advisory committee two weeks ago and asked it to determine if the Milham well could be brought under control. He said that the government considered it out of control. It was pointed out that so long as Milham's well was allowed to produce, it would not aid the government's oil conservation program as outlined by President Hoover.

BOY VICTIM OF BANDIT'S HIDDEN GUN

Lads Find Pistol Thrown Away by Trapped Thieves; One Critically Wounded

Shot through the head, Billy Phillips, 8 years of age, of 809 West Knoll Drive, West Hollywood, last night was in the Children's Hospital critically injured. According to Deputy Sheriff Bogardus of the West Hollywood subdivision the boy was shot by his 6-year-old brother Bobby, who had found in the grass a revolver, presumably thrown away by bandits early yesterday. Billy and Bobby told of finding the weapon and of playing "hold-up" with it.

Yesterday afternoon E. W. Fuller of 335 Clark street reported to the police that he saw a small boy shoot another near Santa Monica Boulevard and West Knoll Drive. Deputies rushed to the scene, finding Billy badly wounded. A bullet had entered his neck, emerging under the right eye. The boy was hurried to the Dickey &amp; Case Emergency Hospital and after treatment was sent to the Children's Hospital.

The deputies returned to the scene of the shooting, where they found a revolver in the grass. Under questioning Bobby Phillips said that he and Billy found the gun and that after the shooting he threw it away. The officers believe that the weapon, previously thrown there at 1 a. m. yesterday, when they arrested two men who had gained entrance to the residence for a party, was the boy's mishap.

Chief Davis and Board Inspect 700 Policemen

Semiannual inspection of the police force was conducted yesterday at the Coliseum. Chief Davis and members of the Police Commission reviewed the 700 men at the inspection, those not on active duty at the time. This inspection also was the regular occasion for the collecting from their blue winter uniforms to olive drab.

Chief Davis and the commissioners scrutinized the long lines, making sure every clip was polished and every tunic properly buttoned, following which the men were sent to their duties. The other members will be inspected during the three-day inspection period.

WIFE LIKED TONIC, HUSBAND CHARGES

Because his wife insisted on drinking wine tonic when he wouldn't buy her anything else to drink, Dave W. Morgan is suing Mrs. Ethel Morgan for divorce. Mrs. Morgan called him a "big fat slob," her husband said, and told neighbors about another man she loved "better than anything else in the world." She added that she wished she could marry the other man, so she could have a "well home, a car and everything." Morgan mentions threats to kill, in case his other assertions should prove inadequate to obtain the desired decree.

ELY'S FRIENDS TO OPEN INTENSIVE CAMPAIGN

Gratified with the manner in which the Fifth District voters rallied to the support of E. De Vore Ely, Councilman candidate from the district who was nominated at the primaries, the Fifth District Taxpayers' Association, which unanimously endorsed the candidate at the beginning of his campaign, yesterday began an intensive drive to assure Ely's election June 4. A house-to-house campaign will be made in an attempt to bring every registered voter to the polls on election day.

HARRY CARR TO SPEAK AT BILTMORE LUNCH

Harry Carr of The Times will talk on the Mexican revolution at the regular luncheon meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce this noon at the Biltmore. As the principal speaker, Mr. Carr will relate many observations made during his recent assignment to Mexico. Carl Wittenburg, chairman, has announced the entertainment program, which will include Dorothy Custer, Harry Johnson, Varsity cheer club girls, the six Martinellis, a boys' marching feature, and other numbers.

To Identify Genuine Aspirin

THE increasing use of Bayer Aspirin every year is proof that it has no ill effects. It is the accepted antidote for pain. It always helps; it never harms. Quick relief when you've a headache, or cold, or are suffering from neuralgia or neuritis. Rheumatic pains yield, too, if you'll only give these tablets a chance. But you want genuine Aspirin, so look for the Bayer Cross on every tablet. The box always bears the name Bayer and the word "Genuine" printed in red. Proven directions inside.

Itchy Pimples Disfigured Face.
Caused Pain. Cuticura Healed.

"Pimples broke out on my forehead and between my eyes. They were very hard and red. After a few days they would burn and itch, causing me to scratch them. Every time I touched them it caused pain, and my face was disfigured. I had the trouble about a month when I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. It afforded quick relief so I purchased more, and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed." (Signed) Wm. MELMEEL HAS CHANCE AGAIN
Young Orator High Up in Contest Once More
For Seven Years His Work
Has Been Watched

He May Come to Coast as Midwest's Choice

Eugene McMeel, who has been competing in oratorical contests dealing with the Constitution for seven years and who was winner of the "Times" finals in 1928, is forging ahead in the Lucas contest in the collegiate oratorical contest on the Constitution.

Tomorrow he will represent the State of California in the national finals in this city June 30 at the University of California.

McMeel's advancement has been steady. In 1922 he won his high school contest. The following year he advanced a bracket higher and in 1923 represented the high school department of Loyola College. He won the Times finals and took second place in the national finals. He entered college in 1924 and has been a consistent contender in the intercollegiate event. The account which he will give of himself to-morrow at Liberty will be watched with interest by his many California friends.

The Pacific zone will be represented on June 29 by John McMeel of Santa Clara University. Each contestant in these finals will participate in the Better America Federation's cash awards, which aggregate $5000 for the seven contestants, ranging from $1000 to $2500 according to place attained by the eight finalists.

HARGREAVES SEPARATE,
SAYS RUMOR

Daughter of Commoner and Banker Spouse Will Separate, Reports Advers

A rift in the marital relationship of Richard L. Hargreaves, president of the First National Bank of Beverly Hills, and Grace Hargreaves, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, was reported yesterday. Neither of the pair could be reached last night to confirm or deny the rumor.

Incompatibility is said to be the cause of the matrimonial discord and possibility of divorce action is anticipated. The couple are said to have separated once before but later reunited. It is reported that a property settlement is being arranged between Mr. and Mrs. Hargreaves. She is wealthy in her own right. It is said, having shared the estate of her father to the extent of $250,000.

Mrs. Hargreaves' attorney, Zack O'Connell, asserted yesterday that "he knew nothing of the reported disagreement," and Mrs. Hargreaves have four minor children.

Council Asked to Sell Rest of Harbor Bonds

A resolution asking the City Council to advertise for sale $2,300,000 harbor improvement bonds, consisting of the remainder of the $11,000,000 issue voted six years ago was passed unanimously by the Board of Harbor Commissioners yesterday.

The construction projects for which the money is to be used include the building of a modern case all around the city and the city's waterfront, tentative plans for which were approved by the board yesterday. The sum of $10,000 was appropriated for preliminary work.

Cost of the completion of the permanent Santa Fe connection with the harbor also is to be met out of these funds. The board yesterday authorized signing of a supplemental agreement on this project.

Payment for various extensions of wharves, fills, transit shed construction and other developments also is to be made from the sale of bonds.

PORTABLE LABORATORY TO AID CRIME DETECTION

A portable laboratory for detecting crime, equipped with all the apparatus used in modern police work and so constructed that it can be taken to the scene of a crime on short notice, has been added to the homicide detail of the Sheriff's office. It was announced yesterday by Sheriff Trager.

In addition to the portable equipment, quarters in the basement of the Hall of Justice have been set aside for the establishment of a county laboratory to be used exclusively by the homicide squad in making blood analyses, fingerprint comparisons, hair and skin tests and other scientific work in criminal investigations.

Frank Gompert, with the title of "criminal technician," will have charge of the laboratory. Gompert, who formerly was attached to the county chemist's department, has been assigned to the homicide squad at the request of Capt. Trager. The new laboratory is said to be the

Contract on Royalty of Company Absorbed Held
No Longer Binding

The mere assignment to another party of its rights under an executory contract does not cast upon that third person any personal liabilities imposed by the contract upon the assignor unless assigned expressly obligates himself to perform the covenants binding upon the assignor or recognizes his personal obligation to the vendor or claimant or assigns the benefits of a full performance of the contract.

This was the text of an opinion handed down yesterday by Judge Lucas, sitting in the District Court of Appeals, in the matter of an appeal from a judgment rendered by the District Court of California against the Armstrong Company.

Seeking judgment for $50,000, the Armstrong Company brought suit in Superior Court against the Shell organization for the asserted breaking of a contract made originally between the Armstrong Company and Western Union Oil Company, whereby the latter, under a royalty agreement, installed and operated a certain gasoline extracting process.

It was agreed that the royalty should be 5 per cent for a period of ten years, but the under no conditions, need the licensee pay to the licensor more than $100,000.

A year later the Western Union interests were absorbed by the Shell company, which later served notice upon the Armstrong Company that it repudiated any obligations under the contract, setting forth that the Armstrong Company's patents were not valid.

Suit was brought to recover for the unrecouped portion of the $100,000.

DOG IN MURDER CASE LOCATED

But Canine Again Flees as it Passes Death Spot

Animal Furnishes Link in Frahm Slaying

Police Still Seek Clues in Maywood Mystery

The much-sought police dog that accompanied Louis Frahm, the Olympic fruit merchant who was murdered on a lonely road near Maywood a week ago, was found yesterday—but, by a singular circumstance, again escaped.

The dog was found near a refuse dump on East Randolph street yesterday morning. As the truck in which it was being conveyed to the police station at Maywood neared the spot where stains of Frahm's blood still marked the concrete road, the animal suddenly became frenzied. Before William Matthews, truck driver employed by the Consolidated Fruit Company, could make a move to prevent it, the dog balked and sprang from the truck. Matthews stopped the truck, but the dog bounded from the road and raced northward across an area of brush and brush land. Twenty minutes later it was seen in Maywood by a motorcycle officer. He reported it was running west on Mission avenue.

DOG IDENTIFIED

The dog, according to Deputy Sheriff Brewster, and, perhaps, was undoubtedly the one they had been seeking since the murder of Frahm. It was found yesterday morning by Frank Hardwick, a car checker for the Los Angeles Junction Railroad. The dog was ensnared and covered with Harley boots.

There was a hole through its right ear and a wound on the right side of its neck. The wound and the hole in the ear had become infected. Hardwick put the dog in his machine and carried him to the watchman's shack of the Consolidated Fruit Company.

There he turned the animal over to N. H. Atterberry, gate-keeper. Atterberry gave the dog something to eat, and the animal readily became friendly. In the meantime Hardwick notified Chief Hays of Maywood and told him the dog would be brought in. At noon Matthews, the truck driver, pulled out of the steel works with a load and offered to take the dog to the police station. The animal was placed on the seat and Matthews started.

The truck driver noticed the dog had a scar in the center of its forehead, which had been caused, according to the murdered man's widow when a kettle of boiling water had been thrown at the dog several months ago. Matthews asserted the dog appeared friendly and contented to ride on the seat until the truck neared the murder scene.

BEGAN TO GROWL

Suddenly the animal raised up with a peculiar growl and bristling hair. Matthews told deputy sheriff, "It was started by my action." He began to slow down when the dog started yelping and growling. Then, before I knew what happened, the animal leaped from the moving truck. It stumbled and slid a few feet and then got up and tore out across the field and was a block away before I recovered from its astonishment enough to try to follow, or to call it back. I watched until the animal was lost from sight near Shattuck avenue.

"As I drove on for a few hundred feet I realized that it was near the murder spot. I believe the dog also realized this and became fearful on approaching it."

Immediately after the dog's escape Chief Hays and Deputy Sheriff Brewster and Matthews started to search of the territory. The school children of Maywood were asked to join in the hunt. It is the belief of the deputies that if found the dog may materially aid in furnishing a clue to the murderers.

KILLING OF FRAHM

Frahm was shot three times in the head with bullets from different colored guns on the 7th last. He had started from his home in Downey to the Central Terminal Market in Los Angeles at 8 p.m. He was found crawling over the wheel of his truck at 7 a.m.

He had been accompanied by the police dog. Blood spots leading for a half-mile along the concrete road of the truck indicated the dog had been wounded and had started to flee toward home. The dog, however, left the road, according to the bloodstains, and had cut across into the marsh lands.

Since then searching parties of deputy sheriffs and police have covered much of the area without finding a trace of it.

The dog is six months old, with dark body, a brownish breast and answers to the name of Sule.

ROSES OFFER NEW STUDY IN SCARLET

Mary Ann Morrissey And, festoon of blooms

When Claude Calmer Rose is not at work in his office he usually is to be found somewhere out in the foothills writing poetry or pulling the devil grass from around the roots of the rose bushes in the back yard of his home, 1878 Pike avenue, Pasadena.

Herewith is a picture of two branches from one Paul's Canyon Rummel, each bearing twenty-five flaming symbols of the Crown City, in addition to more than a score of unopened buds.

NEW DEPOT DEDICATED WITH FETE

Old Spanish Fiesta Marks Opening of Union Pacific Station in Suburb

Characterized as the finest suburban railroad station in the Southwest, the new East Los Angeles depot of the Union Pacific System at Telegraph Road and Atlantic Boulevard was dedicated yesterday afternoon with more than 2000 persons witnessing the impressive ceremonies.

At 2:35 p.m. the Gold Coast Limited from Chicago came to a stop at the station, inaugurating direct rail contact for East Los Angeles and adjacent cities and communities. The depot is of Spanish architecture and represents an expenditure of $100,000.

Among those who took part in the program was Senora Florencia Sepulveda de Schoneman, a member of one of the oldest families of Southern California. With Raquel Torrez, motion-picture actress, Senora de Schoneman officiated at the planting of a slip from the famous grape vine of San Gabriel at the station entrance. She touched upon the history of the vine during her address. Both she and Miss Torrez were in native Spanish costume.

The Gold Coast Limited was greeted by the Union Pacific band and girls in Spanish costume from the California Valencia Orange Show at Anaheim. During the ten-minute stop passengers of the train were welcomed to Los Angeles by the leading orange-show girls were Mona Roca and Dorothy Day.

CITY COUNCIL ACTS ON DRAIN PROJECT

Inclusion of two sections of storm drain in connection with the proposed improvement of Sunset Boulevard between Normandie avenue and Laurel Canyon Road was decided upon by the City Council yesterday, on recommendation of its Public Works Committee.

The Council instructed the City Engineer to include in his plans for the project the building of storm drains on Sunset Boulevard between El Centro avenue and Vine street and on El Centro avenue between Selma avenue and Sunset Boulevard.

SAFEGUARD FOR BEACHES VOTED

Council Settles Questions Concerning Jurisdiction

Full Authority Placed With Playground Department

Control Over City Tidelands, Except at Port, Included

With the object of erecting an additional safeguard against the exploitation of the public beaches by private interests, the City Council yesterday passed an ordinance which definitely places the jurisdiction over all beaches, tidelands and submerged lands owned by the city in the hands of the Playground and Recreation Department and outlines the procedure for the exercise of that jurisdiction.

The city charter provides that the Playground and Recreation Department has jurisdiction over city-owned beaches, but questions have arisen as to whether this charter provision permits the department to extend its control to the tidelands and submerged lands. It was mainly to clarify this point that the ordinance passed yesterday was drawn up.

The ordinance confirms the right of the department to construct, maintain and operate groins, jetties, breakwaters, sea walls, piers and other works or structures for the purpose of protecting public beaches, or creating additional beach areas, provided that they do not interfere with the use of the adjacent waters for commerce, navigation or fishery.

What is regarded as the most important of the safeguards contained in the ordinance is a section granting the department sole authority to lease and execute all permits, concessions, licenses and leases for the construction or operation of any type of structure over or across the tidelands, submerged lands and beach lands owned by the city. The ordinance then sets forth in detail the procedure which must be followed by the department in passing

NO CHANGE IN PRIMARY RESULTS FROM RECOUNT

Although slight inaccuracies were disclosed in the official recount of the votes in the Eleventh Councilmanic District yesterday, the relative position of the candidates was not affected and J. C. Barthel remains as one of the nominees for the final election in June. Edward A. Gerety, who ran third among the ten candidates in that district at the primary, had demanded the recount on the ground that there were irregularities in the first canvass of the votes.

In the original canvass, Lester R. Rice-Wray finished first by a wide margin over Barthel, whom the canvass gave 1767 votes. According to that canvass, Gerety received 1748 votes. The latter filed his demand for a recount on Tuesday. He was required at that time to post a bond of $500 to guarantee payment of the expenses of the recount if the results were not changed by it.

The recount was conducted by a special contest board composed of Mayor Coyer, City Attorney Stephens and City Clerk Dominguez. This board, assisted by a quickly assembled emergency force of fifty clerks, began its labor at 2 p.m. yesterday and at 5:30 had examined every ballot in the district and had them tabulated by it. That means Gerety gained six votes, but Barthel gained seven, their totals being computed as 1754 and 1774, respectively.

Shortly before the expiration of the time limit, which was 5 p.m. yesterday, J. W. Toms filed an application for a recount of the votes on applications for permits, concessions, licenses and leases.

The tide and beach lands under the control of the Harbor Department are excluded from the terms of the new ordinance, but all other tide and beach lands owned by the city are covered by it. That means it will apply to the beaches and tide and submerged lands at Venice, Hyperion, Playa del Rey and those in Long Beach that are not in the harbor. The State still retains jurisdiction over the ocean frontage in the city limits between Santa Monica and the city's northwest boundary.

AFFAIRS OF COOLEY TRIO BUSY COURT

Murder Hearing on Today; Widow Named Executrix; Claim on Son Deferred

With John L. Howard, asserted hammer-slayer of Victor A. Cooley, scheduled to appear in court for arraignment on a murder charge today, Mrs. Pearl A. Cooley, widow of the late Pasadena automobile dealer, yesterday won the right to administer the $25,000 Cooley estate over the objections of Clyde Cooley, her 18-year-old stepson. Superior Judge Stephens made the ruling.

Howard will appear for arraignment before Superior Judge Shaw. He will be represented by Attorneys Coombs and De Wess. He is charged with beating Cooley, his friend and employer, to death with a hammer in a Pasadena apartment-house last month.

Cooley's will stated that he left $300 to his son and the remainder of the estate to his wife in the belief that she will make proper provision for the youth. There was another clause of the will that apparently forecast a separation and divorce. It stated that the provisions for Mrs. Cooley were to be in effect whether the couple were divorced or not.

Meanwhile a suit for damages against Cooley and his son, brought by Mrs. Eliza Adams, was postponed when it was called in Superior Judge Guevara's court because of Cooley's death.

Mrs. Adams asks $15,236 damages for injuries, asserting that she was run down by young Cooley. Clark Bailey, said to have rented the car from the elder Cooley, is named co-defendant.

LIGHTS PROTESTS DENIED

Protests against the ordinance of intention for the installation of new lighting appliances on Sunset Canyon Road between Laurelmont Drive and Hollywood Boulevard were denied by the City Council yesterday, thus opening the way for the adoption of the final ordinance.

GLOBE GIRDERS IN SOUTHLAND

a dominant position in world merchandising is one of the true romances of American business. He told reporters yesterday how he began his career behind the counter of a little mining camp general store at Kemmer, Wyo., in 1902, rising in affluence until today he is owner of the great concern which will do more than $300,000,000 worth of retail business in 1933.

"I had come west from Missouri for my health and signed a contract with the owners of the little store in that Wyoming mining camp to work for three years at $60 per month," he said. "I was mightily pleasantly surprised a year later when they permitted me to invest $500 in the business and appointed me manager."

"That kindly act gave me the vision that has helped me to succeed. I credit the success of our whole business, in fact, to our policy in giving our store managers a share in the business which their labors have created. All down the line, to the greatest clerks behind the counters, our employees get the inspiration."

"I think our retail sales success is due chiefly to the fact that we are striving continually to crowd the utmost value per dollar expended on our scale well."

Mrs. Fenney was asked how many stores comprise the Penny chain. He replied:

"When I left New York there were 1074, but the other day I had a radio that we have acquired 129 new ones, and by this time I suppose the total is well above 1200."

It was at Mr. Fenney's Florida home that President Hoover spent the time between completion of his South American tour and the inauguration. He declared yesterday that the nation never had had a President better qualified to fill the office than Mr. Hoover, who, he said, is remarkably well equipped both by temperament and life-long training.

Mr. and Mrs. Fenney will be at the Billmore during a short visit in Los Angeles.

Stores in Australia are glutted with locally made ladies' handbags which are being held until tariff duties and finally come to the attention of the market.

Now THAT THE FOOT OF THE RAINBOW LIES AT YOUR FEET

HOSE were fabulous dreams you dreamed as a boy, about the fabulous foot of the rainbow. You'd find fortune there, and all the things that fortune can buy: a beautiful home, a swift, trim yacht, the finest motor car in all the world.

Now, after years of struggle, you've won your way to success—the foot of the rainbow lies at your feet. Already you own a beautiful home and a yacht. But you've wavered on the other dream . . . that finest car in the world—Rolls-Royce.

It isn't a question of money. You've probably spent more for automobiles in the last ten years than a Rolls-Royce that will last for twenty years costs. And it isn't a question of desire. You want a Rolls-Royce now more than ever. But you hesitate to buy one, because—"My friends might talk."

Think again about that! Did your friends criticize you when you added those extra acres to your estate, to gain privacy; or when you took a suite on the ocean liner, to gain more comfort? Did they criticize you when you moved your offices to a taller building, to insure greater quiet; or when you bought those government bonds as a sound investment?

Then should your friends challenge your purchase of a car that offers all these things—privacy, comfort, quiet, the soundest investment in the fine car field?

But perhaps you did not realize that Rolls-Royce offers so much. Perhaps you thought of it as a luxury—when actually it is one of the best protections to health and nerves and efficiency that a business man can buy.

For Rolls-Royce is the quietest car ever built—a car that has banished even those tiny quavers which, though seldom heard, fray your nerves and wear you down. A Rolls-Royce is as comfortable as your favorite chair. It has less vibration than your yacht. You can't feel the motor going—you have to strain your ears to hear it.

Think what such peace and quiet would mean to you at the end of each noisy, work-wearied day! You step into the car at your office door—it's like stepping directly into your library at home. The roar of the city is stilled to a distant whisper. You forget business cares—you are conscious only of a great restfulness, cradling your body, soothing your nerves. As you float home, you shed your weariness like a coat.

Yes Rolls-Royce can wake you up as easily as it lulls you to rest. Just take the wheel—and drive! Thrills! Rolls-Royce will give them to you!

And this car is safe! No mechanical part on which the safety of the occupants depends has ever failed in a Rolls-Royce. It commands lower collision rates than any other car.

Such is Rolls-Royce, the car you've dreamed for years of owning—a car that is more than worthy of your dreams . . . Now, reach for your telephone and let your dream come true!
